EX-PRESIDENT OF GUATEMALA IS ASSASSINATED

City of Mexico, April 7.—Gen. Manuel Lizandro Barrillas, ex-president of Guatemala, was assassinated this evening at 7 o'clock on Calle de Semenario as he sat in a Guadalupe street car. He was on his way to supper when the car stopped a young man, a little over 17 years of age, climbed aboard and rushing to the general stabbed him twice, the first blow severing the jugular vein, the second cutting his face. He died instantly.

The assassin was captured. He gave his name as Jose Estrada and his home as Ocos, Guatemala.

The members of the Guatemalan

colony, many of whom formerly lived in Ocos, know of no such name and do not recognize the youth, who is doubtless a paid assassin.

The body of the ex-president, along with the assassin, was taken to police headquarters. The body of the general will probably be turned over to the Guatemalan colony for burial after the autopsy tomorrow.

Ex-President Barrillas was generally considered as strongly opposed to the present government of Guatemala. He was 62 years of age and was a strong possibility for the next presidency of the country.

during March was eminently satisfactory. Our Easy Payment Plan is attracting attention and bringing us many new customers. But during the month of April we want to still more enlarge our business. We want more new customers and to that end we will continue our Easy Payment Plan.

This is the Month for HOUSE CLEANING

You will want some new Carpets, Matings, Art Squares, Rugs, Linoleum, Lace Curtains, Shades, with here and there some needful piece of Furniture. Don't forget that this is the place to get anything along that line and we guarantee satisfaction.

Remember also that we buy and sell second-hand furniture, also exchange new for old.

Also our undertaking department is complete with Caskets, Coffins, Robes, and that we can furnish you a hearse, embalmer and undertaker who will when requested take complete charge of funeral without extra cost to you.

We sell JAP-A-LAC, a varnish that will make your old furniture look like new.

EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE WRECKS GUTHRIE BUILDING

Guthrie, Ok., April 8.—An explosion of gasoline yesterday wrecked a two-story brick business building on Harrison avenue here, and critically wounded Roy Waugh of Springfield, Mo., trunk manufacturer and owner of an Indian curio store, who occupied the building. Two score of people were in upstairs rooms and narrowly escaped death. The explosion shook the entire business portion of the city, and hundreds of frightened persons rushed into the streets.

Waugh was filling a gasoline stove when the explosion occurred. His left leg was broken in three places, and he was otherwise injured. His screams attracted the firemen, and prevented his burning alive in the building. The property loss exceeds $3,000.

E. P. Meigs has in a new line of bath tubs, lavatories and sinks. 13-6td

W. C. Duncan had business in Stone-wall today.

The bath tubs at Crowder's barber shop are always kept nice and clean. The best trade is appreciated and solicited 14-1f

FIRE AND WATER CAUSE FRISCO A LOSS AT SNYDER

Snyder, Ok., April 8.—Between fire and water the railroad tank of the Frisco here and the big cooling system are a complete loss. Through the breaking of the former a workman was badly hurt and several others injured, and in the burning of the latter five coal cars, loaded, were also lost. The fire followed the breakage of the tank, creating a belief that it was of incendiary origin.

Yesterday morning the large railroad water tank used by both branches of the Frisco system burst while undergoing repairs, breaking both legs of Charlie Bowman of Sapulpa, who was making the repairs, nearly drowning E. L. Kinney, who has charge of the pumping station, and bruising C. B. Drebelbis, the agent at this place. A few others were slightly hurt, but none will die.

Following the bursting of the water tank, destroying all of the available water, this morning the big cooling station used by both systems is on fire and will be completely destroyed. Five cars of coal were on the incline and are a total loss. All indications show that it was of incendiary origin, the parties choosing a time when the water supply was exhausted.

The Tale of the Comet.

The great comet and the tail thereto was a sight to behold, glistening with a brilliancy that dazzled the eyes of the happy shoppers at Chambliss' great comet sale Saturday. Did you ever ride a comet? They're about as bad as a white mule and cut up something awful. This comet was like the rest, cavorting around and raising a disturbance wherever they appear. This one came in both doors at once with a rush and a whirl. J. M. T. tried to head him off, but he ran into the dry goods and knocked the price away down, then threw in a yard free. He caromed over to the summer goods and scraped all the profits and part of the cost off of them, and it's tail landed in the shoes and H. sold shoes at half price. By that time J. B. got a half Nelson on him and sold men's $3.00 pants for $1.19. In the struggle several meteors flew off, one landing on $1.25 shirts for 59 cents, and one just missed B. K. who was selling a lady white silk at 49c. The operation necessitated a close conference between the two behind the half-price ribbon case, but then, "She's a Cousin of Mine." Several other meteors went up the Frisco several hours late—we furnish them to the Frisco at half price. You know a meteor is a fragment of a comet unable to keep up with the fast pace and starts off into space by itself—always late.

The comet finally got tangled up in the 49c calico deal and there was a warm time in Print's house, but we cooled him off some by selling him summer underwear at 23c. One of the ladies made 1c hook and eyes at him and tried to lasso him with Coats' thread at 3c a spool. The comet was too foxy and dodged, but got stuck up with pins at 1-2c a paper, and jabbed himself with hat pins at 1-2c each. He got mad and swallowed several hundred yards of feather bone at 4c a yard, then sweetened up on sugar at 20 lbs for $1.00. He finally got tired and went out back and sit down to rest on a $35 riding cultivator for $25. He's out there yet.

Don't COM-ET over this too much, but remember where the bargains are and when you see the comet coming run to Chambliss' store and save yourself money on everything you buy.

BRAVE WORK OF LIFE SAVERS--RESCUE TEN

Norfolk, Va., April 8.—Ten persons, two of whom are women, were rescued from death by Capt. Etheridge and his crew of life savers at Nags Head, N. C., early yesterday morning when the four-masted schooner Louis Bossert was blown ashore by the heavy northeast gale that has prevailed along the Virginia-Carolina coast for the past forty-eight hours. The schooner was bound from New York to Wiggins, S. C., and was swept out of her course by the storm.

Shortly after midnight she ran on the beach and was discovered in the breakers by the life savers. A line was shot over the schooner and the breeches buoy was run out. When the surfmen pulled it in they were surprised to find a young woman among its passengers. Then one by one the seven members of the schooner's crew were hauled to safety through the seas, and on the last trip Capt. Fletcher came in.

Reports from Nags Head says the schooner is high on the shore, but seemingly in good condition.

A. C. Peck, the gin man at Francis, is in Ada on business today. He was a substantial visitor at this sanctum.

Runaway on Main Street.

What might have been a serious runaway was narrowly averted Monday morning on East Main street. Farris Horton driving the team of Copeland & Sloan, of Center, was in Ada for a load of flour. While Horton was loading the flour at C. L. Chambliss' store the team became frightened and started on a run down Main street. Horton made a brave run along side the frightened horses and finally succeeded in getting them stopped east of the Harris hotel without any serious damage being done.

Negroes Still Courting.

The regular weekly delegation of negroes was in evidence Monday morning in the mayor's court. Joseph Harrison, Arthur Curtis, John Harrison and Bass Grayson, living down near the compress, were up charged with crap shooting. They were given a jury trial and the first two named were acquitted, while the last two were found guilty and a fine of $5.00 and costs assessed to each of the guilty parties, amounting to a sum of about $16.50 each were required to pay.

Something Needed Portland Park Addition

Lots near the big Cement Plant to accommodate the hundreds of laborers to be employed in this great industry. This need has been met by laying out the Portland Park Addition just west of the cement plant. Lots are 30 feet by 140, with 60-foot streets and 20-foot alleys. Prices of lots are from $20 to $30. Terms, $5 down and $2 per month. A large reservoir is to be built on the north side by the cement company which will afford boating and fishing.

ROBERT L. OWEN.

What Rev. Theo. F. Brewer, Says of the Senatorial Candidate.

Mr. Owen was born at Lynchburg, Va. Was educated at Washington and Lee University, of which General Robert E. Lee was formerly President. He received the President scholarship in 1876 as the most diligent student in the University and took the degree of Master of Arts, the gold medal as best debater, and delivered the valedictory of his class in 1877. His mother, Mrs. Narcissa Owen was born at Webbers Falls in 1831. It is due to her interest in the Cherokee people that he came to the Cherokee Nation immediately after his graduation.

He was principal teacher of the Cherokee Orphan Asylum, 1879 and 1880; was secretary of the Board of Education of the Cherokee Nation, 1881 to 1884; he began the practice of law in 1890; was president of the International Fair at Muskogee, in 1882, 1883, 1884; was editor and owner of Indian Chieftain in 1884; at Vinita; was United States Indian Agent for the Five Civilized Tribes from 1885 to 1889.

The National Banking act of the United States was extended over the Indian Territory by his efforts, and he organized thereunder the First National Bank of Indian Territory—August 1st, 1890—The First National Bank of Muskogee. He was elected as its president for ten years in succession, declining re-election in 1900.

The act of Congress of March 1st, 1889, establishing the United States Court for the Indian Territory, with jurisdiction strictly in line with Indian treaties, was due to the efforts of Mr. Owen. He was secretary of the first Bar Association of the Indian Territory (organized 1889).

On January 14th, 1890, he entered the service of the Choctaws as attorney and conducted to a successful issue the famous Leased District case, recovering for the Choctaws and Chickasaws against the United States, $2,991,450, March 3d, 1891.

He was attorney for the Western Cherokees who recovered $824,000 in 1894. He conducted the case of the Eastern Cherokee through a contest of six years before the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Departments, winning a judgment in the Supreme Court of the United States of five million dollars in May, 1906.

Chief Justice Charles C. Nott, forty years a justice of the Court of Claims, stated that in his opinion Mr. Owen's argument in the Eastern Cherokee case was the finest he had ever heard in that court, and Senator Moses E. Clapp, of Minnesota, stated on the floor of the U. S. Senate that a justice of the Supreme Court of the United States had pronounced Mr. Owen's argument before that Court one of the ablest heard there for years.

The Act of Congress of March 3d, 1901, giving citizenship of the United States to every Indian in Indian Territory was drawn by Mr. Owen, and its passage was due in a large measure to him. Secretary Cortelyou gave Mr. Owens the pen with which the act was signed by President McKinley. This act gave full citizenship to over seventy thousand Indians, gave them political independence, and relieved them of the personal disability of being wards.

Mr. Owen has had great experience in various lines of business; has handled many thousands of cattle; has directed farming operations on a large scale. There is probably no man more familiar

TRY THIS AT HOME.

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle and take a tea-spoonful doses after meals and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist advises that these simple Vegetable Ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from any good prescription pharmacy.

This mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive Kidneys, overcoming Backache, Bladder weakness and even the worst forms of Rheumatism, which, as everyone knows, is produced by excessive uric acid and other poisonous waste matter which the Kidneys fail to sift and strain from the blood.

Every man or woman here who feels that the Kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner, should mix this prescription at home.

with the conditions in Indian Territory than he is. He has had active continuous business with the government at Washington for over twenty years, and has spent the last sixteen winters in succession in Washington, where his great success has given him a national reputation.

As a Democrat he has always been very active; as a Democratic organizer; has served in various Democratic National conventions; as a member of the Democratic Congressional Campaign committee; as member of the Democratic National committee from 1896 to 1900, and was the Vice chairman of the recent campaign for the election of delegates to the constitutional convention.

He is an Episcopalian, a life member of the Elks, a Thirty-second Degree Mason, a member of the Shrine. Mr. Owen has made his residence in Muskogee since 1887, nearly twenty-two years.

One of Mr. Owen's favorite mottoes is an old Virginian social maxim, "Neither talk scandal nor listen to it." There are few men more considerate in judgment than he is, more affable than he, or more desirous of being absolutely just to other men. He has been notable in his advocacy of the removal of restrictions on the sale and lease of lands in Indian Territory, and was a leader in the Sequoyan movement for independent statehood.

No man stands higher as a business man in the city of Muskogee. The people who know him best in the City of Muskogee have the greatest confidence in his integrity and in his ability. There probably is no man in the Indian Territory who is so largely acquainted with Senators, Congressmen and public men at Washington, and no man in the Indian Territory stands higher in Washington than he. Mr. Owen has traveled abroad, and is acquainted with Europe. He has been a student of statecraft and is regarded as one of the strongest public speakers of the state.

THEO. F. BREWER.

E. S. Ratliff for Floater.

To the Democratic Voters of Seminole and Pontotoc Counties:

Having been solicited by quite a number of friends in Ada, personally, and by petition by my friends from Stonewall, I have consented to place my name before the people of Seminole and Pontotoc counties as a candidate for the office of Floterial Representative, subject to the Democratic primary May 23, 1907. In doing so I desire to say to the people that if elected I shall at all times do my utmost to serve their interests and theirs alone. At a later date I shall submit a platform containing some of the principles for which I shall stand if elected.

Respectfully soliciting the support of the Democratic voters of Seminole and Pontotoc counties, I am,

Very respectfully,
E. S. RATLIFF.

The News wishes to assure those voters who may happen not to know E. S. Ratliff intimately that he is a man with ample qualifications for the office sought. A thorough student both of law and statecraft, deeply devoted to the interests of his adopted country, than E. S. Ratliff probably no man would take up with greater zest and conscientiousness the important work of framing the new commonwealth's statutory laws.

A native of Tennessee, he was reared in Cook county, Texas, and completed his education at the University of Texas. Coming to Ada several years ago he entered the practice of law with his brother, L. D., under the firm name of Ratliff & Ratliff. Last year E. S. lived in Stonewall, maintaining there a branch law office. A few weeks ago when circumstances demanded the brothers removed back to Texas, but E. S. returned to Ada to attend to the entire practice of the firm.

During his residence in this country Mr. Ratliff has won an enviable reputation. He is regarded as a splendid specimen of the Christian gentleman, and as having fine standing and a bright

Furthermore, Mr. Ratliff is a good working Democrat, deeply imbued with the principles of his party. Scarcely could Pontotoc and Seminole counties do better than choose him for their floater in the house of representatives.

Cured of Rheumatism.

Mr. Wm. Henry of Chattanooga, Tenn., had rheumatism in his left arm. "The strength seemed to have gone out of the muscles so that it was useless for work," he says. OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the comptroller of the currency. The large central banks allow overdrafts only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This unbusinesslike habit of overdrafts prevents the advancing of moving products, such as cotton, grain and fat stock on the move. The overdraft system wrongs the man whose account is always overdrawn is the man who spends more money than he makes and will finally have no bank account.

Married.

On Sunday, April 7, 1907, at 3 o'clock p. m., at the clerk's office occurred the marriage of N. B. Stall and Miss Mabel Robb, both of Ada.

Mr. Stall is Ada's popular young photographer, and in his eighteen months' residence here has made many friends.

The bride, Miss Robb, is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Robb of North Ada, and has a host of warm friends. For some time she has been holding the position of stenographer in different law offices in the city.

Mr. Stall has fitted up and nicely furnished a suite of rooms in the Henly & Biles building adjoining his studio, where the happy young couple will make their home.

The News extends congratulations to the contracting parties, and our best wishes go with those of a host of friends in wishing them happiness and prosperity in their journey through life.

AT THE DAM SITE.

Work Out There is Being Hurried Along.

Yesterday a representative of The News was out at the site where the city is building its big reservoir and dam.

We met Harry Keller, foreman of the gang at work on the enterprise, who showed us all through the works.

The frame work for the 225 ft. of concrete, has all been erected and Foreman Keller said that when the concrete work was started this morning there would not be a stop until the whole 3300 yards had been put in. He said that nearly all the work heretofore done on the dam, might be called preparatory work, that now they were ready and could push the work to a rapid completion, and expected to have the dam finished in forty days.

To the east of the 225 feet of concrete in the dam, comes the earthen part of it which will be 500 feet in length, and 100 feet wide at the base.

The concrete work will be braced by 42 feet concrete braces. The two flood gates for the dam, good large ones, about four feet in diameter, arrived Saturday.

BAKER AND CAMERON.

Two Speakers Will be in Ada Tuesday Night.

Judge J. N. Baker and E. D. Cameron will speak at the court house Tuesday night, Mr. Baker in behalf of his candidacy for District Judge, and Mr. Cameron opens his campaign for State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Both men are good speakers, and it is hoped that they will have a good audience. We are informed that all aspirants for the same offices are invited to be present and speak from the same platform.

Commends Colonel Wood.

The following endorsement of Colonel J. P. Wood by the Bar of Ardmore is a fitting tribute to a good man, an able jurist and staunch democrat:

Ardmore, I. T., March 23, 1907.
To Whom it may Concern:

It having come to our knowledge that Colonel J. P. Wood, now of Ada, but for several years a resident of our city, is a candidate for county judge of Pontotoc county, Okla., we the undersigned members of the Ardmore Bar, take pleasure in commending Colonel Wood to the voters of said county as a man in every sense worthy of the position to which he aspires. We regard him as a man of the strictest integrity and as an able and energetic lawyer, and we believe if he is elected he will perform the duties of the office to the satisfaction of the people, and in a manner creditable to himself.

Victimized By Rice Throwers.

A popular couple of Ada's young folks—a couple observed together more than once, in fact several times—spent Sunday in one of Ada's neighbor towns.

In the evening when they alighted from the train, on the return, apparently they were taken by surprise, encountering a reception neither of them had ever been up against. About a score of friends—whether with or without adequate provocation The News can't say—had collected a big cargo of old shoes and rice, and when the returning couple emerged from the train, with a mighty shout the friends overwhelmed them with shower after shower of the symbolical goods. The astonished pair just had to stand and take it, alternately smiling and frowning, with an occasional wince when a pair of boots would hustle them on a point but by a slight amendment of the ordinance could accomplish all is desired.

R. L. Williams of Durant, one of convention's attorneys, said tonight: "The decision gives the Republic a political advantage, as under the convention's ordinance the supreme board would have had one Democratic majority. The canvassing board, dominating the election of officers and submitting the constitution for ratification, is controlled by same political party. The South kora act was almost identical with of Oklahoma and the convention, composed of Republicans, pur course similar to that of this election in drafting its election ordinance."

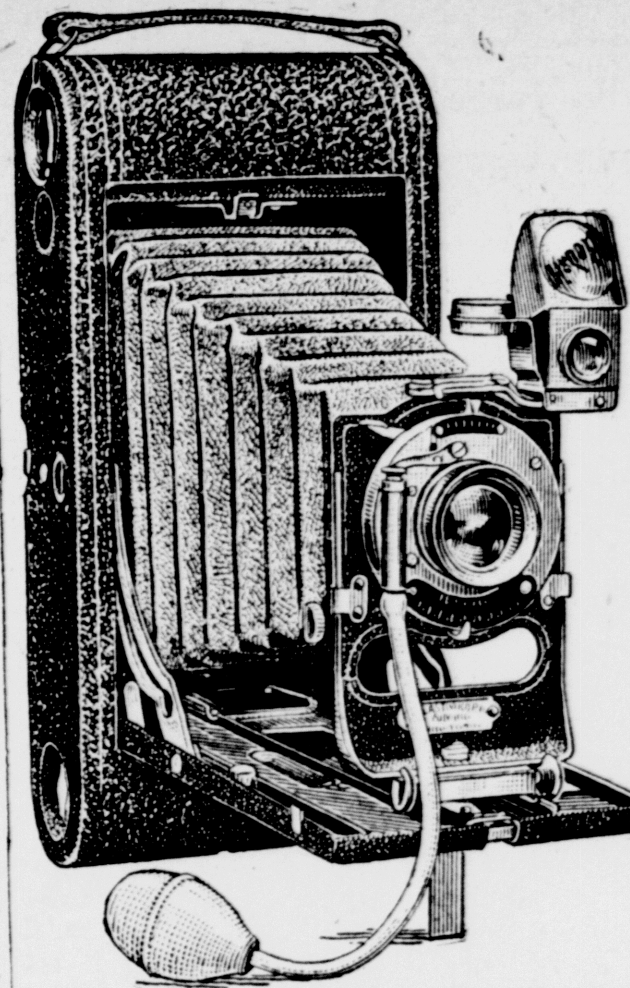

While we believe the decision of is wrong, we may by changing the ordinance hold the election without interference. What I cracy and the convention want is hood and local self-government for people rather than a law suit."

The Woods county case, which A Woman Tells of preventing a Rheumatic Pains.

I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. MAKE QUARTZ GLASS.

WASHINGTON SCIENTISTS DISCOVER NEW PROCESS.

Feat Achieved by Carnegie Laboratory Workers After Many Fruitless Experiments—Value of the New Product.

Washington.—One of the most important commercial developments from the work of the Carnegie geological laboratory in Washington is the possibility of manufacturing quartz glass.

Dr. Arthur L. Day and E. S. Shepherd are the two men who have achieved the feat. They do not take any interest in the commercial possibilities of the matter. Dr. Day, for instance, says that they have shown that the thing can be done, and now if a commercial company wants to take it up it can do so, all of the facts having been made public in the scientific press and before learned societies, so that there is no possibility of anyone getting a patent on it.

The value of quartz glass over ordinary glass is that it can be heated to a temperature of about 1,000 degrees Centigrade without softening, and its expansion under any ordinary heat is so trifling as to be almost a negligible quantity. It also can be heated almost red hot and plunged into cold water without cracking and has the peculiar property of allowing the passage of the ultra violet light rays, making it remarkably valuable in photography.

The value of quartz glass had been recognized for a long time, and owing to the cheapness of German labor it had been manufactured in a way for laboratory use in the form of tubes by heating small clear quartz crystals and sticking them together. The tubes and other vessels thus built up were rough, patchwork-looking affairs, but served a number of useful purposes. However, there was no way of manufacturing the substance into glass sheets of any size because random masses of broken quartz could not be fused together without having the resultant glass full of air bubbles.

The workers of the Carnegie laboratory tried all sorts of methods. If the quartz was intensely heated, free silicon was deposited on the inside of the air bubbles, and the glass was spoiled in two ways, instead of one, which was a plenty. The final solution of the problem was found in heating the quartz to the melting point, about 4,000 degrees Fahrenheit, and then subjecting it to an air pressure of between 400 and 500 pounds. After this it was allowed to gradually cool. The air pressure squeezed out the air bubbles, and the result was a solid and clear mass of quartz glass. The plates that have so far been made are only about three by five by half an inch in size. The bubbles are few, not over one-half a millimeter in diameter, and are not frequent enough to interfere with the use of the glass for lenses, mirrors and other optical work. The experimenters think that a little more skill and experience would enable them to make the glass entirely free from flaws.

The value of the glass in photographic work is due, as has been said, to its property of allowing the passage of the ultra-violet rays, which are the rays that do the actual work in photography. In this connection the glass will be peculiarly valuable for the Cooper-Hewitt incandescent light tubes, such as are now in use in the post office building. These tubes are very valuable now for photographic work, but with the quartz glass tubes they will be immensely more so.

The glass, when it is once made, can be blown or pressed or cut like ordinary glass. It takes a much higher degree of heat to handle it, the oxyhydrogen blow-pipe having to be used, while the material has to be worked much more quickly than ordinary glass.

As to the cost of the process, Dr. Day would attempt no estimate, merely saying that they had spent a great deal of money in doing as much as they had done, but that probably if the thing were done on a commercial scale and a larger unit of production adopted the cost would be considerably reduced.

The cylinder where the glass is made is a powerful iron "bomb," lined with graphite, and one of the problems in working on a larger scale would be to secure larger sheets of graphite for this lining. These sheets could be supplied only by one of the big companies now operating at Niagara.

DISASTER POSTAL CARDS.

Made From Material That Has Figured in Some Accident.

New York.—The disaster postal is one of the latest forms of the souvenir postal craze. It is fashioned from some material which has figured in an accident or calamity and is properly labeled and dated.

The collision off Noyes Beach, by which the steamer Larchmont was lost, furnished a number of these cards. They were made of a piece of sail, cut regulation postal card size, and on the back was printed: "Piece of sail from wreck of schooner Harry Knowlton at Noyes Beach, R. I. Wrecked by collision with steamer Larchmont, February 11, 1907."

The cloth was about an eighth of an inch thick and on its face bore the address and the usual stamp. San Francisco and Kingston have furnished a number of these postals. From railroad wrecks have been sent pieces of car cushions or Pullman draperies.

RENEWING OLD ORCHARDS.

How Pruning and Cultivation Will Give New Life to Trees.

Altogether the most profitable orchards are those set in recent times, or at least put out in the modern method. They are composed of strong, healthy, vigorous trees which practically cover the ground and among which there are no blanks. On many farms, however, there are smaller or larger tracts of old orchard, many of which are worthless and many more of which are not distinctly profitable. Some of these old orchards could be rejuvenated. They could be brought into reasonably good bearing and to a point where they would really pay a profit. Now the rejuvenation of an old orchard is a fairly simple matter, providing it is properly understood, says Country Gentleman. The important point is that it does not consist in the application of any single patent remedy. Spraying will not do the work; pruning will not cure all the troubles; tillage alone will be worth very little; the only way to get the desired result is to apply proper methods all along the line. The soil should be loosened up and proper drainage provided. The trunks should be scraped clean and spread with copper sulfate or Bordeaux mixture. Old dead limbs should be cut out. A reasonable but not excessive pruning should be given. Thorough spraying should be undertaken. In case the trees are of mixed or unprofitable varieties, they should be regrafted to standard sorts. It is not likely that additional plant food will be required at first, except on soils very much depleted. An orchard taken vigorously in hand in the matter of tillage, pruning and spraying is apt to start into a strong growth at once; and if a good deal of raw fertilizer is applied, there may easily be more growth than is desirable. However, one must keep his eyes open, and in case the trees show the want of more food, it should be given. It is really a comparatively easy matter, if all these things are systematically attended to, to bring an old orchard round. It requires from two to five years to do it, depending on the condition of things when the matter is taken in hand.

RASPBERRIES FOR HOME USE.

Every Farmer Should Have His Berry Patch.

No farmer is doing his full duty to his family if he neglects to set at least four long rows of raspberries for home use. Four rows, because he needs four varieties, two of which should be black and two red, an early and a late of each.

Set them in the spring on freshly prepared land by laying it off with a shovel plow and setting 2 1/2 feet apart in the bottom of the furrow. Tramp the dirt firmly on the roots. Make the rows as long as the needs of the family may require.

Locate the patch out in the open where cultivation may be easily given, for which the ordinary corn plows are well adapted, suggests Farm and Home. They will not bear the first frost, and only a part of the crop the first year, but for six to ten years the crop is almost certain. The second year a six-inch mulch every season will make cultivation unnecessary and the only work needed will be an annual trimming. It may be done when the plant is dormant, but preferably in the winter of the first year.

Orchard and Garden.

The garden plot is not naturally drained, make plans for draining

It is surprising how few farmers practice of spraying their fruit trees and vegetables.

Spraying use plenty of liquid and water thoroughly. Use too much water is a little.

Put an eye on the strawberry bed. It blows the mulch off in spots, and it at once.

Western New York buckwheat as a cover crop is the standard of fertility for apple orchards. It really gives wonderful results.

Do not do not spend more time digging weeds before our crops are covered by them, and less in mourning because we had such a light yield at harvest time?

Time to Spray.

Fruit growers should spray their fruit trees in March, before buds swell, for fungus troubles such as peach leaf-curl, scab of pear and apple, fruit rot, etc. The Bordeaux mixture is the standard fungicide. (But, remember, time-sulphur is also a fungicide; so if you use it for San Jose on your trees you will not need the early spray of Bordeaux.)

The Strawberry Bed.

Somebody asks: "Shall I cultivate or hoe my strawberry bed this spring?" To this the Farm and Home says: As a rule, no. The bed should have been clean when it was "laid by" last fall. Any weeds which push through the mulch should be pulled out by hand.

Planting Pears.

Pears can be planted closer than apples. A convenient distance is 15x20 feet. These can be thinned to 30x20 feet when time shall require. This will be all the thinning necessary, as pears tend to reach up rather than laterally.

A Way to Save Money.

A good fruit garden saves money and doctors' bills, drives away the blues and sweetens up the home.

SIXTY CIGARETTES DAILY.

AVERAGE NUMBER SMOKED BY AN IOWA PEDDLER.

After Consuming Nearly 1,000,000 Isaac Manhoff, of Dubuque, Decides He Has Had Enough and Quits Using Them.

Dubuque, Ia.—With a record of nearly 1,000,000 cigarettes, at an average of 60 a day, Isaac Manhoff, a peddler 40 years old, has decided to renounce the weed. The habit had such a hold on him that it was necessary to awake at all hours of the night and roll a "coffin nail" before he could be lulled to sleep again. When a lad in Russia he began the habit which he found so hard to shake off. Despite this fact he will devote his days to trying to convince men and boys that they should cease the practice. Manhoff was in the habit of smoking ten cigarettes before breakfast, and the rest of the day a cigarette was out of his mouth only a few minutes at a time.

For a man who has inhaled the fumes of so many cigarettes Manhoff is a strong man. He weighs about 175 pounds, and has a massive chest and a square build. He says: "You see, when I awoke in the morning the first thing I wanted was a cigarette. Generally I smoked about ten before breakfast. No, I never smoked while eating, but as soon as I finished I would put one in my mouth. Then through the day I would smoke them continuously, one now and another shortly after. Then night would come and I would smoke them late and many times even in bed."

"Have you ever smoked a cigar?" "I have smoked two cigars in my life. I couldn't smoke them because they made me sick. When I get cigars now I give them to my friends."

"How did you happen to quit smoking?"

"Well, you see, it was just like this: When I was afflicted with a cold I usually got hoarse and while I smoked the hoarseness grew more intense. One day not long ago the thought occurred to me that I should forsake the cigarettes. It was then and there that I made up my mind to never smoke another one."

"What was about your cigarettes that was different from others?"

"Well, when I smoked I always used the Russian rice paper and not the rag paper used generally in America. Why, if I had smoked the rag paper instead of the rice I would have been dead long ago."

Manhoff estimated the cost of his smoking at $3,191.

TO SAVE HISTORIC PLACE.

Relic of Days When Spain Ruled in the New World.

Santa Fe, N. M.—If the bill now pending in the legislature of New Mexico becomes a law the old governor's palace, one of the most historic structures in Santa Fe, erected hundreds of years ago, will be turned over to the city for a hall.

The bill was introduced by Speaker Roman Liberato Baca of the house, who is a descendant of one of the oldest native families in the southwest and whose ancestors helped to build the old palace.

At present a section of the old palace is rented by the territory to the United States government for a post office. The New Mexico Historical society also has a valuable collection of antiquities stored in the palace. Several rooms have been used by patriotic and political organizations for headquarters.

The old governor's palace has been the scene of action, martial and political, for centuries and could be preserved indefinitely. The history of the southwest is interwoven about the old building.

Indian governors and warriors, Spanish and American governors and soldiers have in turn used the old palace as headquarters. The histories of the murders, assassinations, fights and councils that have been held within its walls would fill a volume.

It is probable that when the bill to turn the historic old structure into a city hall comes up for consideration much of the history of the ancient palace will be brought out in speeches on the floors of both houses.

Leaves a Mansion for Slums.

Daughter of Wealthy British Contractor Leaves Among the Poor.

Elkhart, Ind.—Mrs. Howard James Clifford, wife of the Salvation army ensign who has been assigned to the Indianapolis field, is the daughter of a wealthy contractor of London England. This fact, which was kept secret from the husband until recently, became public a few days ago. The husband first learned of his wife's prominence and wealth while on a trip abroad. Mrs. Clifford's father was so generous in paying the expenses of the trip and providing them with entertainment that the truth dawned upon the ensign.

Ensign and Mrs. Clifford have been in Elkhart two years and have won innumerable friends by their persistent, modest and incessant labors in hovels and slums, and upon the streets. Mrs. Clifford is a tireless and able assistant in the work.

Ensign Clifford is a native of Charlbury, a village near Oxford, England. He has been in the United States about five years. One of the first sacrifices that he made upon entering the Salvation army in his native country was that of personal liberty. He was imprisoned for a time during the bitter persecution which the army suffered in the early years of its warfare in England.

His parents were Methodists of the old type. A boast of the ensign is that every male of his family from the days of John Wesley has been a Methodist minister. Two of his sisters and three brothers, one of them Major John Clifford, who did heroic rescue work following the Kingston, Jamaica, disaster recently, are engaged in the work.

"HUSTLE" DRESS FOR MEN.

British Reformer Invents Suit for Those in a Hurry.

London.—Edgar Jephson of Wenbley, Middlesex, is the latest British dress reformer. He has invented a hustling suit for men in a hurry. Its main usefulness lies in the fact that it can be put on and taken off in record time.

In appearance it differs from conventional attire only when seen from behind, but it is so distinctive from this point of view that when Mr. Jephson first wore it in public he was subjected to outspoken criticism. Nevertheless the brave reformer ventured to walk on the Strand in the suit. Its novel feature consists of combining the jacket and trousers, the latter being fastened by concealed buttons to the waist of the jacket behind.

Mr. Jephson says that as a walking or working suit it is incomparable and that it is also more stylish than the present mode. He proposes to extend the idea to evening dress, but doubts whether it ever will be popular because it is so useful.

SIGHTLESS WHIST PLAYER.

Uses Special Cards and Has Wonderfully Retentive Memory.

Philadelphia.—Henry Kuhl Dillard, whose funeral took place a few days ago, had a marvellously retentive memory that served him well in the 25 years of his life, during which he was sightless.

Becoming blind in 1882 when a member of the firm of George C. Carson & Co., which succeeded to the business formerly conducted by Carson & Newbold, Mr. Dillard retired from active business and had remained at his home for the greater part of the time since that date.

Being a devotee of whist Mr. Dillard was loath to be deprived of this pleasure when stricken, so he obtained cards upon which the numerals and letters were raised and became a member of a whist-playing coterie in his neighborhood, playing almost daily for more than ten years.

Until he lost his sight, he was a member of the Philadelphia club and a director of the Philadelphia National bank and belonged to many societies.

For many years he was a vestryman in the Church of the Epiphany and St. James's church. Born in Philadelphia in 1834, Mr. Dillard came of a distinguished ancestry. In 1870 he married Sallie Poultny Williams, who, with a son, Dr. Henry Kuhl Dillard, Jr., survives him.

SHUN MEAT AND BE STRONG.

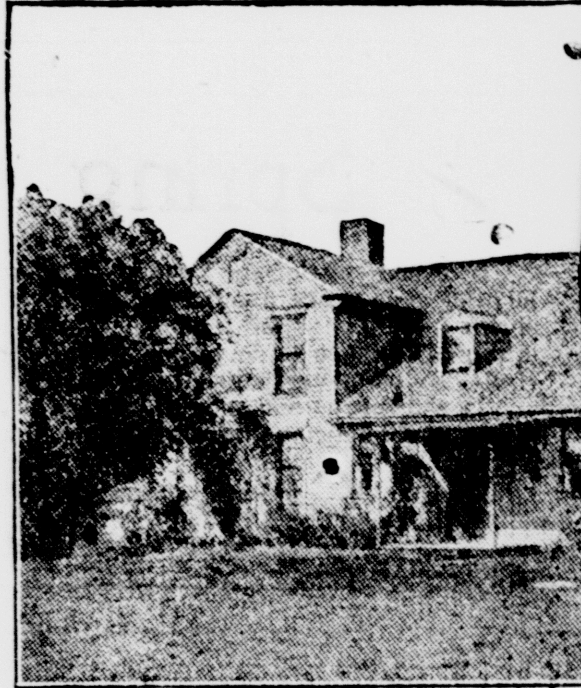

Yale Professor Finds Nonflesh Eater Has Greatest Power of Endurance.

New Haven, Conn.—Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale has just completed endurance tests which he claims vindicate a diet without flesh foods. The tests were simple but effective, being: First, holding out the arms as long as possible; second, deep knee bending; third, leg raising with the subject lying on his back.

Forty-nine persons were examined, including Yale students, physicians, nurses and college instructors. Comparisons were made between flesh eating athletes and nonflesh eating sedentary workers.

Prof. Fisher says of the result: "The experiment furnished a severe test to the claims of the flesh abstainer. The result would indicate that nonflesh eaters have far greater endurance than those accustomed to the ordinary American diet."

Cities May Cure Drunks.

Sanitariums Planned by Indiana Municipalities.

Wabash, Ind.—The reform wave which has been sweeping Indiana for many months has taken a peculiar turn in threatening to invade the county jails throughout the state. This particular reform is not aimed at the jail management, though some may be badly in need of attention. It is proposed to install it as a department of each jail in the larger cities. If it is established it means a new terror in the bastille for the toper who is wont to imagine strange and dreadful things in his cell while he forgets his debauch.

The new terror will be the "jag cure." In other words, a movement to provide a system of treatment for drunkenness in the case of habitual drunkards at each jail or lockup in the cities that can afford such a plan has been started and is being favored in several Indiana cities.

One of the most interesting features of the movement lies in its origin. It was started indirectly by a woman. The fame of "Tish" Higgins, of Wabash, is not confined solely to the city in which she lives. Year in and year out for a decade or so "Tish" Higgins has been a frequent visitor at the Wabash county jail. Usually she came unwillingly, protesting with maudlin vigor against being locked up. It is said that no other woman in Indiana, and it is not a record of which any woman would care to boast, has been locked up as many times as "Tish" Higgins.

She came so often to the Wabash jail and became such an expense to the city that Mayor Murphy finally began to wonder if it would not be money in the city treasury to devise some way to quench "Tish" Higgins' unfortunate thirst. Then he decided to give her a "jag cure," and broke the news to the woman after one of her numerous appearances before him. It was enough. She has not been back since.

Bathtub Arrives; Joy in Town.

Fairfax, S. D.—The first bathtub to find its way to this city, Rosebud county seat, was formally installed the other day in the barber shop of Ralph Christlance, and there is rejoicing throughout the whole Rosebud reservation. Fairfax was one of the centers of the Rosebud rush, and has long been equipped with a jail, but until now those who chose to bathe had to do it on the installment plan.

COX--GREER--M'DONALD CO.

EX-PRESIDENT OF GUATEMALA IS ASSASSINATED

City of Mexico April 7.—Gen Manuel Lizandro Barrillas, ex president of Guatemala, was assassinated this evening at 7 o'clock on Calle de Seminario as he sat in a Guadalupe street car. He was on his way to supper when the car stopped a young man a little over 17 years of age climbed aboard and rushing to the general stabbed him twice the first blow severing the jugular vein, the second cutting his face. He died instantly. The assassin was captured. He gave his name as Jose Estrada and his home as Ocos, Guatemala. The members of the Guatemalan colony many of whom formerly lived in Ocos know of no such name and do not recognize the youth, who is doubtless a paid assassin. The body of the ex-president, along with the assassin, was taken to police headquarters. The body of the general will probably be turned over to the Guatemalan colony for burial after the autopsy tomorrow. Ex-President Barrillas was generally considered as strongly opposed to the present government of Guatemala. He was 62 years of age and was a strong possibility for the next presidency of the country.

Our Business

during March was eminently satisfactory. Our Easy Payment Plan is attracting attention and bringing us many new customers. But during the month of April we want to still more enlarge our business. We want more new customers and to that end we will continue our Easy Payment Plan.

EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE WRECKS GUTHRIE BUILDING

Guthrie Ok April 8.—An explosion of gasoline yesterday wrecked a two-story brick business building on Harrison avenue here and critically wounded Roy Waugh of Springfield Mo. trunk manufacturer and owner of an Indian curio store, who occupied the building. Two score of people were in upstairs rooms and narrowly escaped death. The explosion shook the entire business portion of the city, and hundreds of frightened persons rushed into the streets. Waugh was filling a gasoline stove when the explosion occurred. His left leg was broken in three places, and he was otherwise injured. His screams attracted the firemen and prevented his burning alive in the building. The property loss exceeds $3 000. E P Meigs has in a new line of bath tubs lavatories and sinks. 13 6d. W C Duncan had business in Stone-wall today. The bath tubs at Crowder's barber shop are always kept nice and clean. The best trade is appreciated and solicited. 14 tf

FIRE AND WATER CAUSE FRISCO A LOSS AT SNYDER

Snyder, Ok, April 8.—Between fire and water the railroad tank of the Frisco here and the big cooling system are a complete loss. Through the breaking of the former a workman was badly hurt and several others injured, and in the burning of the latter five coal cars, loaded, were also lost. The fire followed the breakage of the tank, creating a belief that it was of incendiary origin. Yesterday morning the large railroad water tank used by both branches of the Frisco system burst while undergoing repairs breaking both legs of Charlie Bowman of Sapulpa, who was making the repairs, nearly drowning E L Kinney, who has charge of the pumping station, and bruising C B Drebbins, the agent at this place. A few others were slightly hurt, but none will die. Following the bursting of the water tank, destroying all of the available water, this morning the big cooling station used by both systems is on fire and will be completely destroyed. Five cars of coal were on the incline and are a total loss. All indications show that it was of incendiary origin, the parties choosing a time when the water supply was exhausted.

The Tale of the Comet.

The great comet and the tail thereto was a sight to behold, glistening with a brilliancy that dazzled the eyes of the happy shoppers at Chambliss' great comet sale Saturday. Did you ever ride a comet? They're about as bad as a white mule and out up something awful. This comet was like the rest, cavorting around and raising a disturbance wherever they appear. This one came in both doors at once with a rush and a whirl. J M T tried to head him off but he ran into the dry goods and knocked the price away down, then threw in a yard free. He caromed over to the summer goods and scraped all the profits and part of the cost off of them, and it's tail landed in the shoes and H sold shoes at half price. By that time J B got a half Nelson on him and sold men's $2.00 pants for $1.19. In the struggle several meters flew off, one landing on $1.25 shirts for 69 cents, and one just missed B. K. who was selling a lady white silk at 49c. The operation necessitated a close conference between the two behind the half-price ribbon case, but then, "She's a Cousin of Mine." Several other meteors went up the Frisco several hours later—we furnish them to the Frisco at half price. You know a meteor is a fragment of a comet unable to keep up with the fast pace and starts off into space by itself—always late. The comet finally got tangled up in the 49c calico deal and there was a warm time in Print's house, but we cooled him off some by selling him summer underwear at 23c. One of the ladies made a hook and eyes at him and tried to lasso him with Coats' thread at 3c a spool. The comet was too foxy and dodged, but got stuck up with pins at 1-2c a paper, and jabbed himself with hat pins at 1-2c each. He got mad and swallowed several hundred yards of feather bone at 4c a yard, then sweetened up on sugar at 20 lbs for $1.00. He finally got tired and went out back and sat down to rest on a $35 riding cultivator for $25. He's out there yet. Don't com-er over this too much, but remember where the bargains are and when you see the comet coming run to Chambliss' store and save yourself money on everything you buy.

BRAVE WORK OF LIFE SAVERS--RESCUE TEN

Norfolk Va, April 8.—Ten persons two of whom are women, were rescued from death by Capt Etheridge and his crew of life savers at Nags Head, N C, early yesterday morning when the four-masted schooner Louis Bossert was blown ashore by the heavy northeast gale that has prevailed along the Virginia-Carolina coast for the past forty-eight hours. The schooner was bound from New York to Wiggins, S C, and was swept out of her course by the storm.

Shortly after midnight she ran on the beach and was discovered in the breakers by the life savers. A line was shot over the schooner and the breeches buoy was run out. When the surfmen pulled it in they were surprised to find a young woman among its passengers. Then one by one the seven members of the schooner's crew were hauled to safety through the seas, and on the last trip Capt Fletcher came in. Reports from Nags Head says the schooner is high on the shore, but seemingly in good condition.

A. C. Peck, the gin man at Francis, is in Ada on business today. He was a substantial visitor at this junctum.

Runaway on Main Street.

What might have been a serious runaway was narrowly averted Monday morning on East Main street. Farris Horton driving the team of Copeland & Sloan, of Center, was in Ada for a load of flour. While Horton was loading the flour at C L Chambliss' store the team became frightened and started on a run down Main street. Horton made a brae run along side the frightened horses and finally succeeded in getting them stopped east of the Harris hotel without any serious damage being done.

Negroes Still Courting.

The regular weekly delegation of negroes was in evidence Monday morning in the mayor's court. Joseph Harrison, Arthur Curtis, John Harrison and Bass Grayson, living down near the compass, were up charged with crap shooting. They were given a jury trial and the first two named were acquitted, while the last two were found guilty and a fine of $5.00 and costs assessed to each of the guilty parties, amounting to a sum of about $16.00 each were required to pay.

Something Needed Portland Park Addition

Lots near the big Cement Plant to accommodate the hundreds of laborers to be employed in this great industry. This need has been met by laying out the Portland Park Addition just west of the cement plant. Lots are 30 feet by 140, with 60-foot streets and 20 foot alleys. Prices of lots are from $20 to $30. Terms, $5 down and $2 per month. A large reservoir is to be built on the north side by the cement company which will afford boating and fishing.

ROBERT L. OWEN.

What Rev. Theo. F. Brewer, Says of the Senatorial Candidate.

Mr. Owen was born at Lynchburg, Va. Was educated at Washington and Lee University, of which General Robert E. Lee was formerly President. He received the President scholarship in 1876 as the most diligent student in the University and took the degree of Master of Arts, the gold medal as best debater, and delivered the valedictory of his class in 1877. His mother, Mrs. Narcissa Owen was born at Webbers Falls in 1831. It is due to her interest in the Cherokee people that he came to the Cherokee Nation immediately after his graduation.

He was principal teacher of the Cherokee Orphan Asylum, 1879 and 1880; was secretary of the Board of Education of the Cherokee Nation, 1881 to 1883; he began the practice of law in 1890; was president of the International Fair at Muskogee, in 1882, 1883, 1884; was editor and owner of Indian Chieftain in 1884; at Vinita; was United States Indian Agent for the Five Civilized Tribes from 1885 to 1889.

The National Banking act of the United States was extended over the Indian Territory by his efforts, and he organized thereunder the First National Bank of Indian Territory—August 1st, 1890—The First National Bank of Muskogee. He was elected as its president for ten years in succession, declining re-election in 1900.

The act of Congress of March 1st, 1889, establishing the United States Court for the Indian Territory, with jurisdiction strictly in line with Indian treaties, was due to the efforts of Mr. Owen. He was secretary of the first Bar Association of the Indian Territory (organized 1889).

On January 14th, 1890, he entered the service of the Choctaws as attorney and conducted to a successful issue the famous Leased District case, recovering for the Choctaws and Chickasaws against the United States, $2,391,450, March 3d, 1891.

He was attorney for the Western Cherokees who recovered $824,000 in 1894. He conducted the case of the Eastern Cherokee through a contest of six years before the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Departments, winning a judgment in the Supreme Court of the United States of five million dollars in May, 1906.

Chief Justice Charles C. Nott, forty years a justice of the Court of Claims, stated that in his opinion Mr. Owen's argument in the Eastern Cherokee case was the finest he had ever heard in that court, and Senator Moses E. Clapp, of Minnesota, stated on the floor of the U. S. Senate that a justice of the Supreme Court of the United States had pronounced Mr. Owen's argument before that Court one of the ablest heard there for years.

The Act of Congress of March 3d, 1901, giving citizenship of the United States to every Indian in Indian Territory was drawn by Mr. Owen, and its passage was due in a large measure to him. Secretary Cortelyou gave Mr. Owen the pen with which the act was signed by President McKinley. This act gave full citizenship to over seventy thousand Indians, gave them political independence, and relieved them of the personal disability of being wards.

Mr. Owen has had great experience in various lines of business; has handled many thousands of cattle; has directed farming operations on a large scale. There is probably no man more familiar

TRY THIS AT HOME.

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle and take a tea-spoonful doses after meals and at bedtime:
Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist advises that these simple Vegetable Ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from any good prescription pharmacy.

This mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive Kidneys, overcoming Backache, Bladder weakness and even the worst forms of Rheumatism, which, as everyone knows, is produced by excessive uric acid and other poisonous waste matter which the Kidneys fail to sift and strain from the blood.

Every man or woman here who feels that the Kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner, should mix this prescription at home.

with the conditions in Indian Territory than he is. He has had active continuous business with the government at Washington for over twenty years, and has spent the last sixteen winters in succession in Washington, where his great success has given him a national reputation.

As a Democrat he has always been very active; as a Democratic organizer; has served in various Democratic National conventions; as a member of the Democratic Congressional Campaign committee; as member of the Democratic National committee from 1896 to 1900, and was the Vice chairman of the recent campaign for the election of delegates to the constitutional convention.

He is an Episcopalian, a life member of the E. K. s, a Thirty-second Degree Mason, a member of the Shrine. Mr. Owen has made his residence in Muskogee since 1887, nearly twenty-two years.

One of Mr. Owen's favorite mottoes is an old Virginian social maxim, "Neither talk scandal nor listen to it." There are few men more considerate in judgment than he is, more affable than he, or more desirous of being absolutely just to other men. He has been notable in his advocacy of the removal of restrictions on the sale and lease of lands in Indian Territory, and was a leader in the Sequoyan movement for independent statehood.

No man stands higher as a business man in the city of Muskogee. The people who know him best in the City of Muskogee have the greatest confidence in his integrity and in his ability. There probably is no man in the Indian Territory who is so largely acquainted with Senators, Congressmen and public men at Washington, and no man in the Indian Territory stands higher in Washington than he. Mr. Owen has traveled abroad, and is acquainted with Europe. He has been a student of statecraft and is regarded as one of the strongest public speakers of the state.

THEO. F. BREWER

E. S. Ratliff for Floater.

To the Democratic Voters of Seminole and Pontotoc Counties:
Having been solicited by quite a number of friends in Ada, personally, and by petition by my friends from Stonewall, I have consented to place my name before the people of Seminole and Pontotoc counties as a candidate for the office of Floterial Representative, subject to the Democratic primary May 23, 1907. In doing so I desire to say to the people that if elected I shall at all times do my utmost to serve their interests and theirs alone. At a later date I shall submit a platform containing some of the principles for which I shall stand if elected.

Respectfully soliciting the support of the Democratic voters of Seminole and Pontotoc counties, I am,
Very respectfully,
E. S. RATLIFF.

The News wishes to assure those voters who may happen not to know E. S. Ratliff intimately that he is a man with ample qualifications for the office sought. A thorough student both of law and statecraft, deeply devoted to the interests of his adopted country, than E. S. Ratliff probably no man would take up with greater zest and conscientiousness the important work of framing the new commonwealth's statutory laws.

A native of Tennessee, he was reared in Cook county, Texas, and completed his education at the University of Texas. Coming to Ada several years ago he entered the practice of law with his brother, L. D., under the firm name of Ratliff & Ratliff. Last year E. S. lived in Stonewall, maintaining there a branch law office. A few weeks ago when circumstances demanded the brothers removed back to Texas, but E. S. returned to Ada to attend to the entire practice of the firm.

During his residence in this country Mr. Ratliff has won an enviable reputation. He is regarded as a splendid specimen of the Christian gentleman, and as having fine standing and a bright future in his profession.

Furthermore, Mr. Ratliff is a good Working Democrat, deeply imbued with the principles of his party. Scarcely could Pontotoc and Seminole counties do better than choose him for their floater in the house of representatives.

Cured of Rheumatism.

Mr. Wm. Henry of Chattanooga, Tenn., had rheumatism in his left arm. "The strength seemed to have gone out of the muscles so that it was useless for work," he says. "I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and wrapped the arm in flannel at night, and to my relief I found that the pain gradually left me and the strength returned. In three weeks the rheumatism had disappeared and has not since returned." If troubled with rheumatism try a few applications of Pain Balm. You are certain to be pleased with the relief which it affords. For sale by G. M. Ramsey.

OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the community. The large central banks now overdraft only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This business-like habit of overdrafts produces a bad tendency to moving products, such as cotton, grain, etc., on the move. The overdraft system is wrong and it must be abandoned. It makes no sense to have a bank account.

AT THE DAM SITE.

Work Out There is Being Hurried Along.

Yesterday a representative of The News was out at the site where the city is building its big reservoir and dam.

Werner Harry Keller, foreman of the gang at work on the enterprise, who showed us all through the works.

The frame work for the 225 ft. of concrete, has all been erected and Foreman Keller said that when the concrete work was started this morning there would not be a stop until the whole 3300 yards had been put in. He said that nearly all the work heretofore done on the dam, might be called preparatory work, thusing a now they were ready and could push the work to a rapid completion, and expected to have the dam finished in forty days.

To the east of the 225 feet of concrete in the dam, comes the earthen part of it which will be 500 feet in length, and 100 feet wide at the base.

The concrete work will be braced by 42 feet concrete braces.

The two flood gates for the dam, good large ones, about four feet in diameter, arrived Saturday.

Commends Colonel Wood.

The following endorsement of Colonel J. P. Wood by the Bar of Ardmore is a fitting tribute to a good man, an able jurist and staunch democrat:

Ardmore, I. T., March 23, 1907.

To Whom it may Concern:

It having come to our knowledge that Colonel J. P. Wood, now of Ada, but for several years a resident of our city, is a candidate for county judge of Pontotoc county, Okla., we the undersigned members of the Ardmore Bar, take pleasure in commending Colonel Wood to the voters of said county as a man in every sense worthy of the position to which he aspires. We regard him as a man of the strictest integrity and as an able and energetic lawyer, and we believe if he is elected he will perform the duties of the office to the satisfaction of the people, and in a manner creditable to himself.

Victimized By Rice Throwers.

A popular couple of Ada's young folks—a couple observed together more than once, in fact several times—spent Sunday in one of Ada's neighbor towns.

In the evening when they alighted from the train, on the return, apparently they were taken by surprise, encountering a reception neither of them had ever been up against. About a score of friends—whether with or without adequate provocation The News can't say—had collected a big cargo of old shoes and rice, and when the returning couple emerged from the train, with a mighty shout the friends overwhelmed them with shower after shower of the symbolical goods. The astonished pair just had to stand and take it, alternately smiling and frowning, with an occasional wince when a pair of boots would hustle through on a but by a slight amendment of the ordinance could accomplish all is desired.

R. L. Williams of Durant, one of convention's attorneys, said tonight: "The decision gives the Republic a political advantage, as under the convention's ordinance the supreme election board would have had one D. under the decision is composed of officers and Republicans, and the supervising board, dominating the election of officers and submitting the constitution for ratification, is controlled by same political party. The South keta act was almost identical with of Oklahoma and the convention composed of Republicans, pure course similar to that of this election in drafting its election ordinance.

While we believe the decision of is wrong, we may by changing the ordinance hold the election without interference. What I cracy and the convention want is hood and local self-government for people rather than a law suit."

MAKE QUARTZ GLASS.

WASHINGTON SCIENTISTS DISCOVER NEW PROCESS.

Feat Achieved by Carnegie Laboratory Workers After Many Fruitless Experiments—Value of the New Product.

Washington.—One of the most important commercial developments from the work of the Carnegie geological laboratory in Washington is the possibility of manufacturing quartz glass.

Dr. Arthur L. Day and E. S. Shepherd are the two men who have achieved the feat. They do not take any interest in the commercial possibilities of the matter. Dr. Day, for instance, says that they have shown that the thing can be done, and now if a commercial company wants to take it up it can do so, all of the facts having been made public in the scientific press and before learned societies, so that there is no possibility of anyone getting a patent on it.

The value of quartz glass over ordinary glass is that it can be heated to a temperature of about 1,000 degrees Centigrade without softening, and its expansion under any ordinary heat is so trifling as to be almost a negligible quantity. It also can be heated almost red hot and plunged into cold water without cracking and has the peculiar property of allowing the passage of the ultra-violet light rays, making it remarkably valuable in photography.

The value of quartz glass had been recognized for a long time, and owing to the cheapness of German labor it had been manufactured in a way for laboratory use in the form of tubes by heating small clear quartz crystals and sticking them together. The tubes and other vessels thus built up were rough, patchwork-looking affairs, but served a number of useful purposes. However, there was no way of manufacturing the substance into glass sheets of any size because random masses of broken quartz could not be fused together without having the resultant glass full of air bubbles.

The workers of the Carnegie laboratory tried all sorts of methods. If the quartz was intensely heated, free silicon was deposited on the inside of the air bubbles, and the glass was spoiled in two ways, instead of one, which was a pity. The final solution of the problem was found in heating the quartz to the melting point, about 4,000 degrees Fahrenheit, and then subjecting it to an air pressure of between 400 and 600 pounds. After this it was allowed to gradually cool. The air pressure squeezed out the air bubbles, and the result was a solid and clear mass of quartz glass. The plates that have so far been made are only about three by five by half an inch in size. The bubbles are few, not over one-half a millimeter in diameter, and are not frequent enough to interfere with the use of the glass for lenses, mirrors and other optical work. The experimenters think that a little more skill and experience would enable them to make the glass entirely free from flaws.

The value of the glass in photographic work is due, as has been said, to its property of allowing the passage of the ultra-violet rays, which are the rays that do the actual work in photography. In this connection the glass will be peculiarly valuable for the Cooper-Hewitt incandescent light tubes, such as are now in use in the post office building. These tubes are very valuable now for photographic work, but with the quartz glass tubes they will be immensely more so.

The glass, when it is once made, can be blown or pressed or cut like ordinary glass. It takes a much higher degree of heat to handle it, the oxyhydrogen blow pipe having to be used, while the material has to be worked much more quickly than ordinary glass.

As to the cost of the process, Dr. Day would attempt no estimate, merely saying that they had spent a great deal of money in doing as much as they had done, but that probably if the thing were done on a commercial scale and a larger unit of production adopted the cost would be considerably reduced.

The cylinder where the glass is made is a powerful iron "bomb," lined with graphite, and one of the problems in working on a larger scale would be to secure larger sheets of graphite for this lining. These sheets could be supplied only by one of the big companies now operating at Niagara.

DISASTER POSTAL CARDS.

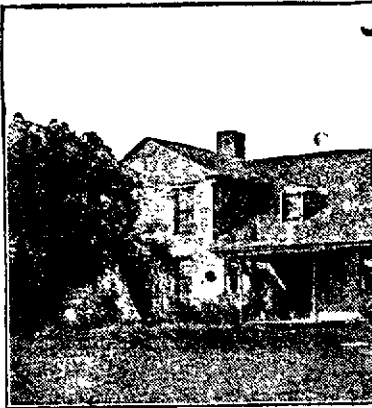

Made From Material That Has Figured in Some Accident.

New York.—The disaster postal is one of the latest forms of the souvenir postal craze. It is fashioned from some material which has figured in an accident or calamity and is properly labeled and dated.

The collision off Noyes Beach, by which the steamer Larchmont was lost, furnished a number of these cards. They were made of a piece of sail, cut regulation postal card size, and on the back was printed: "Piece of sail from wreck of schooner Harry Knowlton at Noyes Beach, R. I. Wrecked by collision with steamer Larchmont, February 11, 1907."

The cloth was about an eighth of an inch thick and on its face bore the address and the usual stamp. San Francisco and Kingston have furnished a number of these postals. From railroad wrecks have been sent pieces of car cushions or Pullman draperies.

Cities May Cure Drunks.

Sanitariums Planned by Indiana Municipalities.

Wabash, Ind.—The reform wave which has been sweeping Indiana for many months has taken a peculiar turn in threatening to invade the county jails throughout the state. This particular reform is not aimed at the jail management, though some may be badly in need of attention. It is proposed to install it as a department of each jail in the larger cities. If it is established it means a new terror in the battle for the toper who is wont to imagine strange and dreadful things in his cell the while he forgets his dehauch.

The new terror will be the "jag cure." In other words, a movement to provide a system of treatment for drunkenness in the case of habitual drunkards at each jail or lockup in the cities that can afford such a plan has been started and is being favored in several Indiana cities.

One of the most interesting features of the movement lies in its origin. It was started indirectly by a woman. The femme of "Tish" Higgins, of Wabash, is not confined solely to the city in which she lives. Year in and year out for a decade or so "Tish" Higgins has been a frequent visitor at the Wabash county jail. Usually she came unwillingly, protesting with maudlin vigor against being locked up. It is said that no other woman in Indiana, and it is not a record of which any woman would care to boast, has been locked up as many times as "Tish" Higgins.

She came so often to the Wabash jail and became such an expense to the city that Mayor Murphy finally began to wonder if it would not be some way to quench "Tish" Higgins' unfortunate thirst. Then he decided to give her a "jag cure," and broke the news to the woman after one of her numerous appearances before him. It was enough. She has not been back since.

Bathtub Arrives: Joy in Town. Fairfax, S. D.—The first bathtub to find its way to this city, Rosebud's county seat, was formally installed the other day in the barber shop of Ralph Christensen, and there is rejoicing throughout the whole Rosebud reservation. Fairfax was one of the centers of the Rosebud rush, and had long been equipped with a jail, but until now those who chose to bathe had to do it on the installment plan.

RENEWING OLD ORCHARDS.

How Pruning and Cultivation Will Give New Life to Trees.

Altogether the most profitable orchards are those set in recent times, or at least put out in the modern method. They are composed of strong, healthy, vigorous trees which practically cover the ground and among which there are no blanks. On many farms, however, there are smaller or larger tracts of old orchard, many of which are worthless and many more of which are not distinctly profitable. Some of these old orchards could be rejuvenated. They could be brought into reasonably good bearing and to a point where they would really pay a profit. Now the rejuvenation of an old orchard is a fairly simple matter, providing it is properly understood, says Country Gentleman. The important point is that it does not consist in the application of any single patent remedy. Spraying will not do the work; pruning will not cure all the troubles; tillage alone will be worth very little; the only way to get the desired result is to apply proper methods all along the line. The soil should be loosened up and proper drainage provided. The trunks should be scraped clean and spread with copper sulfate or Bordeaux mixture. Old, dead limbs should be cut out. A reasonable but not excessive pruning should be given. Thorough spraying should be undertaken. In case the trees are of mixed or unprofitable varieties, they should be regrafted to standard sorts. It is not likely that additional plant food will be required at first, except on soils very much depleted. An orchard taken vigorously in hand in the matter of tillage, pruning and spraying is apt to start into a strong growth at once; and if a good deal of raw fertilizer is applied, there may easily be more growth than is desirable. However, one must keep his eyes open, and in case the trees show the want of more food, it should be given. It is really a comparatively easy matter, if all these things are systematically attended to, to bring an old orchard round. It requires from two to five years to do it, depending on the condition of things when the matter is taken in hand.

RASPBERRIES FOR HOME USE.

Every Farmer Should Have His Berry Patch.

No farmer is doing his full duty to his family if he neglects to set at least four long rows of raspberries for home use. Four rows, because he needs four varieties, two of which should be black and two red, an early and a late of each.

Set them in the spring on freshly prepared land by laying it off with a shovel plow and setting 2 1/2 feet apart in the bottom of the furrow. Trump the dirt firmly on the roots. Make the rows as long as the needs of the family may require.

Locate the patch out in the open where cultivation may be easily given, for which the ordinary corn plows are well adapted, suggests Farm and Home. They will not bear the first frost, and only a part of the crop the second year, but for from six to ten years the crop is almost certain. The second year a six-inch mulch each season will make cultivation unnecessary and the only work needed will be an annual trimming. It may be done when the plant is dormant, but preferably in the winter early spring.

Orchard and Garden. The garden plot is not naturally drained, make plans for draining.

It is surprising how few farmers practice of spraying their crops and vegetables.

Spraying use plenty of liquid and do thoroughly. Use too much is better than too little.

Put an eye on the strawberry bed. It blows the mulch off in spots, and it at once.

Western New York buckwheat as a cover crop is the standard of fertility for apple orchards. It really does wonderful results.

Do we not spend more time digging weeds before our crops are sown by them, and less in mowing because we had such a light yield at harvest time?

Time to Spray.

Fruit growers should spray their fruit trees in March, before buds swell, for fungus troubles such as peach leaf-curl, scab of pear and apple, fruit rot, etc. The Bordeaux mixture is the standard fungicide. (But, remember, lime-sulphur is also a fungicide, so if you use it for San Jose on your trees you will not need the early spray of Bordeaux.)

The Strawberry Bed.

Somebody asks: "Shall I cultivate or hoe my strawberry bed this spring?" To this the Farm and Home says: As a rule, no. The bed should have been clean when it was "laid by" last fall. Any weeds which push through the mulch should be pulled out by hand.

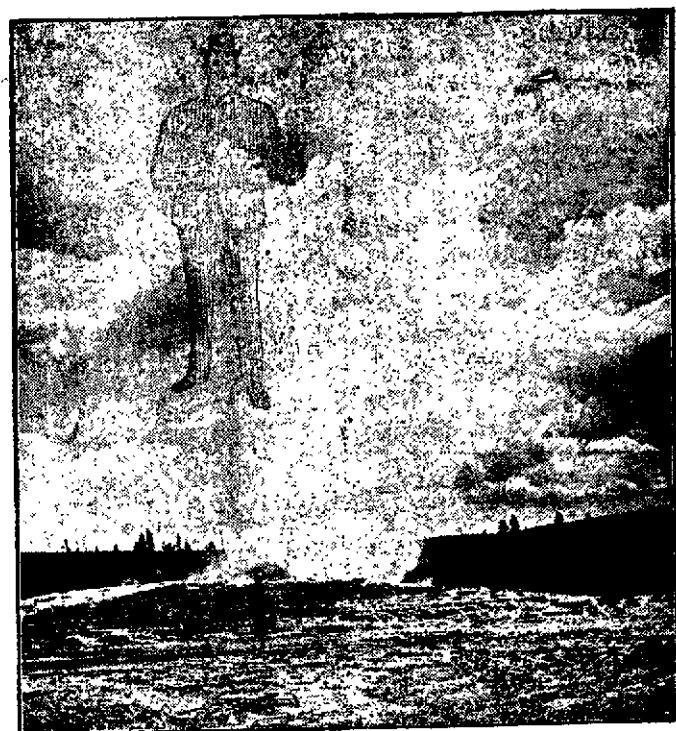

Planting Pears.

Pears can be planted closer than apples. A convenient distance is 15x20 feet. These can be thinned to 30x20 feet when time shall require. This will be all the thinning necessary, as pears tend to reach up rather than laterally.

A Way to Save Money.

A good fruit garden saves money and doctors' bills, drives away the blues and sweetens up the home.

SIXTY CIGARETTES DAILY.

AVERAGE NUMBER SMOKED BY AN IOWA PEDDLER.

After Consuming Nearly 1,000,000 Isaac Manhoff, of Dubuque, Describes He Has Had Enough and Quits Using Them.

Dubuque, Ia.—With a record of nearly 1,000,000 cigarettes, at an average of 60 a day, Isaac Manhoff, a peddler 40 years old, has decided to renounce the weed. The habit had such a hold on him that it was necessary to awake at all hours of the night and roll a "coffin nail" before he could be lulled to sleep again. When a lad in Russia he began the habit which he found so hard to shake off. Despite this fact he will devote his days to trying to convince men and boys that they should cease the practice. Manhoff was in the habit of smoking ten cigarettes before breakfast, and the rest of the day a cigarette was out of his mouth only a few minutes at a time.

For a man who has inhaled the fumes of so many cigarettes Manhoff is a strong man. He weighs about 175 pounds, and has a massive chest and a square build. He says: "You see, when I awoke in the morning the first thing I wanted was a cigarette. Generally I smoked about ten before breakfast. No, I never smoked while eating, but as soon as I finished I would put one in my mouth. Then through the day I would smoke them continuously, one now and another shortly after. Then night would come and I would smoke them late and many times even in bed."

"Have you ever smoked a cigar?" "I have smoked two cigars in my life. I couldn't smoke them because they made me sick. When I get cigars now I give them to my friends."

"How did you happen to quit smoking?" "Well, you see, it was just like this: When I was afflicted with a cold I usually got hoarse and while I smoked the hoarseness grew more intense. One day not long ago the thought occurred to me that I should forsake the cigarettes. It was then and there that I made up my mind to never smoke another one."

"What was about your cigarettes that was different from others?"

"Well, when I smoked I always used the Russian rice paper and not the rag paper used generally in America. Why, if I had smoked the rag paper instead of the rice I would have been dead long ago."

Manhoff estimated the cost of his smoking at $3,191.

TO SAVE HISTORIC PLACE.

Relic of Days When Spain Ruled in the New World.

Santa Fe, N. M.—If the bill now pending in the legislature of New Mexico becomes a law the old governor's palace, one of the most historic structures in Santa Fe, erected hundreds of years ago, will be turned over to the city for a hall.

The bill was introduced by Speaker Roman Liberator Baca of the house, who is a descendant of one of the oldest native families in the southwest and whose ancestors helped to build the old palace.

At present a section of the old palace is rented by the territory to the United States government for a post office. The New Mexico Historical society also has a valuable collection of antiquities stored in the palace. Several rooms have been used by patriotic and political organizations for headquarters.

The old governor's palace has been the scene of action, martial and political, for centuries and could be preserved indefinitely. The history of the southwest is interwoven about the old building.

Indian governors and warriors, Spanish and American governors and soldiers have in turn used the old palace as headquarters. The histories of the murders, assassinations, fights and councils that have been held within its walls would fill a volume.

It is probable that when the bill to turn the historic old structure into a city hall comes up for consideration much of the history of the ancient palace will be brought out in speeches on the floors of both houses.

Leaves a Mansion for Slums.

Daughter of Wealthy British Contractor or Labors Among the Poor.

Elkhart, Ind.—Mrs. Howard James Clifford, wife of the Salvation army ensign who has been assigned to the Indianapolis field, is the daughter of a wealthy contractor of London England. This fact, which was kept secret from the husband until recently, became public a few days ago. The husband first learned of his wife's prominence and wealth while on a trip abroad. Mrs. Clifford's father was so generous in paying the expenses of the trip and providing them with entertainment that the truth dawned upon the ensign.

Ensign and Mrs. Clifford have been in Elkhart two years and have won innumerable friends by their persistent, modest and incessant labors in hovels and slums, and upon the streets. Mrs. Clifford is a tireless and able assistant in the work.

Ensign Clifford is a native of Chelmsbury, a village near Oxford, England. He has been in the United States about five years. One of the first sacrifices that he made upon entering the Salvation army in his native country was that of personal liberty. He was imprisoned for a time during the bitter persecution which the army suffered in the early years of its warfare in England.

His parents were Methodists of the old type. A host of the ensign is that ever-made-up family from the days of John Wesley has been a Methodist minister. Two of his sisters and three brothers, one of them Major John Clifford, who did heroic rescue work following the Kingston, Jamaica, disaster recently, are engaged in the work.

"HUSTLE" DRESS FOR MEN.

British Reformer Invents Suit for Those in a Hurry.

London.—Edgar Jephson of Wenbley, Middlesex, is the latest British dress reformer. He has invented a bustling suit for men in a hurry. Its main usefulness lies in the fact that it can be put on and taken off in record time.

In appearance it differs from conventional attire only when seen from behind, but it is so distinctive from this point of view that when Mr. Jephson first wore it in public he was subjected to outspoken criticism. Nevertheless the brave reformer ventured to walk on the Strand in the suit. Its novel feature consists of combining the jacket and trousers, the latter being fastened by concealed buttons to the waist of the jacket behind.

Mr. Jephson says that as a walking or working suit it is incomparable and that it is also more stylish than the present mode. He proposes to extend the idea to evening dress, but doubts whether it ever will be popular because it is so useful.

EX-PRESIDENT OF GUATEMALA IS ASSASSINATED

City of Mexico, April 7.—Gen Manuel Lizandro Barrillas, ex president of Guatemala, was assassinated this evening at 7 o'clock on Calle de Semanario as he sat in a Guadalupe street car. He was on his way to supper when the car stopped a young man a little over 17 years of age climbed aboard and rushing to the general stabbed him twice the first blow severing the jugular vein, the second cutting his face. He died instantly.

The assassin was captured. He gave his name as Jose Estrada and his home as Ocos, Guatemala.

The members of the Guatemalan

colony many of whom formerly lived in Ocos know of no such name and do not recognize the youth, who is doubtless a paid assassin.

The body of the ex-president, along with the assassin, was taken to police headquarters. The body of the general will probably be turned over to the Guatemalan colony for burial after the autopsy tomorrow.

Ex-President Barrillas was generally considered as strongly opposed to the present government of Guatemala. He was 62 years of age and was a strong possibility for the next presidency of the country.

EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE WRECKS GUTHRIE BUILDING

Guthrie Ok, April 8.—An explosion of gasoline yesterday wrecked a two-story brick business building on Harrison avenue here and critically wounded Roy Waugh of Springfield Mo. trunk manufacturer and owner of an Indian curio store, who occupied the building. Two score of people were in upstairs rooms and narrowly escaped death. The explosion shook the entire business portion of the city, and hundreds of frightened persons rushed into the streets.

Waugh was filling a gasoline stove when the explosion occurred. His left leg was broken in three places, and he was otherwise injured. His screams attracted the firemen and prevented his burning alive in the building. The property loss exceeds $3,000.

FIRE AND WATER CAUSE FRISCO A LOSS AT SNYDER

Snyder, Ok., April 8.—Between fire and water the railroad tank of the Frisco here and the big cooling system are a complete loss. Through the breaking of the former a workman was badly hurt and several others injured, and in the burning of the latter five coal cars, loaded, were also lost. The fire followed the breakage of the tank, creating a belief that it was of incendiary origin.

Yesterday morning the large railroad water tank used by both branches of the Frisco system burst while undergoing repairs breaking both legs of Charlie Bowman of Sapulpa, who was making the repairs, nearly drowning E. L. Kinney, who has charge of the pumping station, and bruising C. B. Drebbels, the agent at this place. A few others were slightly hurt, but none will die.

Following the bursting of the water tank, destroying all of the available water, this morning the big cooling station used by both systems is on fire and will be completely destroyed. Five cars of coal were on the incline and are a total loss. All indications show that it was of incendiary origin, the parties choosing a time when the water supply was exhausted.

The Tale of the Comet.

The great comet and the tail thereto was a sight to behold, glistening with brilliancy that dazzled the eyes of the happy shoppers at Chambliss' great comet sale Saturday. Did you ever ride a comet? They're about as bad as a white mule and cut up something awful. This comet was like the rest, cavorting around and raising a disturbance wherever they appear. This one came in both doors at once with a rush and a whirl. J. M. T. tried to head him off but he ran into the dry goods and knocked the price away down, then threw in a yard free. He caromed over to the summer goods and scraped all the profits and part of the cost off of them, and it's tail landed in the shoes and sold shoes at half price. By that time J. B. got a half Nelson on him and sold men's $3.00 pants for $1.19. In the struggle several meteors flew off, one landing on $1.25 shirts for 69 cents, and one just missed R. K. who was selling a lady white silk at 49c. The operation necessitated a close conference between the two behind the half-price ribbon case, but then, "She's a Cousin of Mine." Several other meteors went up the Frisco several hours later—we furnish them to the Frisco at half price. You know a meteor is a fragment of a comet unable to keep up with the fast pace and starts off into space by itself—always late.

The comet finally got tangled up in the 49c calico deal and there was a warm time in Print's house, but we cooled him off some by selling him summer underwear at 25c. One of the ladies made a hook and eyes at him and tried to lasso him with Coats' thread at 3c a spool. The comet was too foxy and dodged, but got stuck up with pins at 1-2c a paper, and jabbed himself with hat pins at 1-2c each. He got mad and swallowed several hundred yards of feather bone at 4c a yard, then sweetened up on sugar at 20 lbs for $1.00. He finally got tired and went out back and sat down to rest on a $35 riding cultivator for $25. He's out there yet.

Don't come over this too much, but remember where the bargains are and when you see the comet coming run to Chambliss' store and save yourself money on everything you buy.

BRAVE WORK OF LIFE SAVERS--RESCUE TEN

Norfolk Va., April 8.—Ten persons two of whom are women, were rescued from death by Capt. Etheridge and his crew of life savers at Nags Head, N. C., early yesterday morning when the four-masted schooner Louis Bossert was blown ashore by the heavy northeast gale that has prevailed along the Virginia-Carolina coast for the past forty-eight hours. The schooner was bound from New York to Wiggins, S. C., and was swept out of her course by the storm.

Shortly after midnight she ran on the beach and was discovered in the breakers by the life savers. A line was shot over the schooner and the breeches buoy was run out. When the surfmen pulled it in they were surprised to find a young woman among its passengers. Then one by one the seven members of the schooner's crew were hauled to safety through the seas, and on the last trip Capt. Fletcher came in.

Reports from Nags Head says the schooner is high on the shore, but seemingly in good condition.

A. C. Peck, the gin man at Francis, is in Ada on business today. He was a substantial visitor at this sanctuary.

Runaway on Main Street.

What might have been a serious runaway was narrowly averted Monday morning on East Main street. Furia Horton driving the team of Copeland & Sloan, of Center, was in Ada for a load of flour. While Horton was loading the flour at C. L. Chambliss' store the team became frightened and started on a run down Main street. Horton made a brae run along side the frightened horses and finally succeeded in getting them stopped east of the Harris hotel without any serious damage being done.

Negroes Still Courting.

The regular weekly delegation of negroes was in evidence Monday morning in the mayor's court. Joseph Harrison, Arthur Curtis, John Harrison and Bass Grayson, living down near the commissary, were up charged with crap shooting. They were given a jury trial and the first two named were acquitted, while the last two were found guilty and a fine of $5.00 and costs assessed to each of the guilty parties, amounting to a sum of about $16.00 each were required to pay.

Something Needed Portland Park Addition

Lots near the big Cement Plant to accommodate the hundreds of laborers to be employed in this great industry. This need has been met by laying out the Portland Park Addition just west of the cement plant. Lots are 30 feet by 140, with 60-foot streets and 20 foot alleys. Prices of lots are from $20 to $30. Terms, $5 down and $2 per month. A large reservoir is to be built on the north side by the cement company which will afford boating and fishing.

THE PEOPLE'S CANDIDATE!

Hereby is announced the Mason Drug Co. a candidate for the Most Popular Drug Store in Pontotoc county, subject to the action and approval of all people who want PURE DRUGS, HONEST PRICES, and a SQUARE DEAL. And this candidate will be an easy winner!

ROBERT L. OWEN.

What Rev. Theo. F. Brewer, Says of the Senatorial Candidate.

Mr. Owen was born at Lynchburg, Va. was educated at Washington and Lee University, of which General Robert E. Lee was formerly President. He received the President scholarship in 1876 as the most diligent student in the University and took the degree of Master of Arts, the gold medal as best debater, and delivered the valedictory of his class in 1877. His mother, Mrs. Narcissa Owen was born at Webbers Falls in 1831. It is due to her interest in the Cherokee people that he came to the Cherokee Nation immediately after his graduation.

He was principal teacher of the Cherokee Orphan Asylum, 1879 and 1880; was secretary of the Board of Education of the Cherokee Nation, 1881 to 1884; he began the practice of law in 1890; was president of the International Fair at Muskogee, in 1882, 1883, 1884; was editor and owner of Indian Chieftain in 1884; at Vinita; was United States Indian Agent for the Five Civilized Tribes from 1885 to 1889.

The National Banking act of the United States was extended over the Indian Territory by his efforts, and he organized thereunder the First National Bank of Indian Territory—August 1st, 1890—The First National Bank of Muskogee. He was elected as its president for ten years in succession, declining re-election in 1900.

The act of Congress of March 1st, 1889, establishing the United States Court for the Indian Territory, with jurisdiction strictly in line with Indian treaties, was due to the efforts of Mr. Owen. He was secretary of the first Bar Association of the Indian Territory (organized 1889).

On January 14th, 1890, he entered the service of the Choctaws as attorney and conducted to a successful issue the famous Lensed District case, recovering for the Choctaws and Chickasaws against the United States, $2,991,450, March 3d, 1891.

He was attorney for the Western Cherokees who recovered $824,000 in 1894. He conducted the case of the Eastern Cherokee through a contest of six years before the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Departments, winning a judgment in the Supreme Court of the United States of five million dollars in May, 1906.

Chief Justice Charles C. Nott, forty years a justice of the Court of Claims, stated that in his opinion Mr. Owen's argument in the Eastern Cherokee case was the finest he had ever heard in that court, and Senator Moses E. Clapp, of Minnesota, stated on the floor of the U. S. Senate that a Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States had pronounced Mr. Owen's argument before that Court one of the ablest heard there for years.

The Act of Congress of March 3d, 1901, giving citizenship of the United States to every Indian in Indian Territory was drawn by Mr. Owen, and its passage was due in a large measure to him. Secretary Cortelyou gave Mr. Owens the pen with which the act was signed by President McKinley. This act gave full citizenship to over seventy thousand Indians, gave them political independence, and relieved them of the personal disability of being wards.

Mr. Owen has had great experience in various lines of business; has handled many thousands of cattle; has directed farming operations on a large scale. There is probably no man more familiar

TRY THIS AT HOME.

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle and take a tea-spoonful doses after meals and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist advises that these simple Vegetable Ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from any good prescription pharmacy.

This mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive Kidneys, overcoming Backache, Bladder weakness and even the worst forms of Rheumatism, which, as everyone knows, is produced by excessive uric acid and other poisonous waste matter which the Kidneys fail to sift and strain from the blood.

Every man or woman here who feels that the Kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner, should mix this prescription at home.

with the conditions in Indian Territory than he is. He has had active continuous business with the government at Washington for over twenty years, and has spent the last sixteen winters in succession in Washington, where his great success has given him a national reputation.

As a Democrat he has always been very active as a Democratic organizer; has served in various Democratic National conventions; as a member of the Democratic Congressional Campaign committee; as member of the Democratic National committee from 1896 to 1900, and was the Vice chairman of the recent campaign for the election of delegates to the constitutional convention.

He is an Episcopalian, a life member of the Elks, a Thirty-second Degree Mason, a member of the Shrine. Mr. Owen has made his residence in Muskogee since 1887, nearly twenty-two years.

One of Mr. Owen's favorite mottoes is an old Virginia social maxim, "Neither talk scandal nor listen to it." There are few men more considerate in judgment than he is, more affable than he, or more desirous of being absolutely just to other men. He has been notable in his advocacy of the removal of restrictions on the sale and lease of lands in Indian Territory, and was a leader in the Sequoyan movement for independent statehood.

No man stands higher as a business man in the city of Muskogee. The people who know him best in the City of Muskogee have the greatest confidence in his integrity and in his ability. There probably is no man in the Indian Territory who is so largely acquainted with Senators, Congressmen and public men at Washington, and no man in the Indian Territory stands higher in Washington than he. Mr. Owen has traveled abroad, and is acquainted with Europe. He has been a student of statecraft and is regarded as one of the strongest public speakers of the state.

THEO. F. BREWER

E. S. Ratliff for Floater.

To the Democratic Voters of Seminole and Pontotoc Counties:

Having been solicited by quite a number of friends in Ada, personally, and by petition by my friends from Stonewall, I have consented to place my name before the people of Seminole and Pontotoc counties as a candidate for the office of Floterial Representative, subject to the Democratic primary May 23, 1907. In doing so I desire to say to the people that if elected I shall at all times do my utmost to serve their interests and theirs alone. At a later date I shall submit a platform containing some of the principles for which I shall stand if elected.

Respectfully soliciting the support of the Democratic voters of Seminole and Pontotoc counties, I am,

Very respectfully,
E. S. RATLIFF.

The News wishes to assure those voters who may happen not to know E. S. Ratliff intimately that he is a man with ample qualifications for the office sought. A thorough student both of law and statecraft, deeply devoted to the interests of his adopted country, than E. S. Ratliff probably no man would take up with greater zeal and conscientiousness the important work of framing the new commonwealth's statutory laws.

A native of Tennessee, he was reared in Cook county, Texas, and completed his education at the University of Texas. Coming to Ada several years ago he entered the practice of law with his brother, L. D., under the firm name of Ratliff & Ratliff. Last year E. S. lived in Stonewall, maintaining there a branch law office. A few weeks ago when circumstances demanded the brothers removed back to Texas, but E. S. returned to Ada to attend to the entire practice of the firm.

During his residence in this country Mr. Ratliff has won an enviable reputation. He is regarded as a splendid specimen of the Christian gentleman, and as having fine standing and a bright

Furthermore, Mr. Ratliff is a good Working Democrat, deeply imbued with the principles of his party. Scarcely could Pontotoc and Seminole counties do better than choose him for their floater in the house of representatives.

Cured of Rheumatism.

Mr. Wm. Henry of Chattanooga, Tenn., had rheumatism in his left arm. "The strength seemed to have gone out of the muscles so that it was useless for work," he says. "I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and wrapped the arm in flannel at night, and to my relief I found that the pain gradually left me and the strength returned. In three weeks the rheumatism had disappeared and has not since returned." If troubled with rheumatism try a few applications of Pain Balm. You are certain to be pleased with the relief which it affords. For sale by G. M. Ramsey.

OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts are a large or small, are not approved by the bank, and are a source of loss. The large central banks now overdraft only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the banks. That is, this undesirable habit of overdrafting is a source of loss to the bank. The overdraft system is a source of loss to the bank. The overdraft system is a source of loss to the bank. AT THE DAM SITE.

Work Out There is Being Hurried Along.

Yesterday a representative of The News was out at the site where the city is building its big reservoir and dam. We met Harry Keller, foreman of the gang at work on the enterprise, who showed us all through the works.

The frame work for the 225 ft. of concrete, has all been erected and Foreman Keller said that when the concrete work was started this morning there would not be a stop until the whole 3300 yards had been put in. He said that nearly all the work heretofore done on the dam might be called preparatory work, that now they were ready and could push the work to a rapid completion, and expected to have the dam finished in forty days.

To the east of the 225 feet of concrete in the dam, comes the earthen part of it which will be 500 feet in length, and 100 feet wide at the base. The concrete work will be braced by 42 feet concrete braces.

The two flood gates for the dam, good large ones, about four feet in diameter, arrived Saturday.

Commends Colonel Wood.

The following endorsement of Colonel J. P. Wood by the Bar of Ardmore is a fitting tribute to a good man, an able jurist and staunch democrat:

Ardmore, I. T., March 23, 1907.

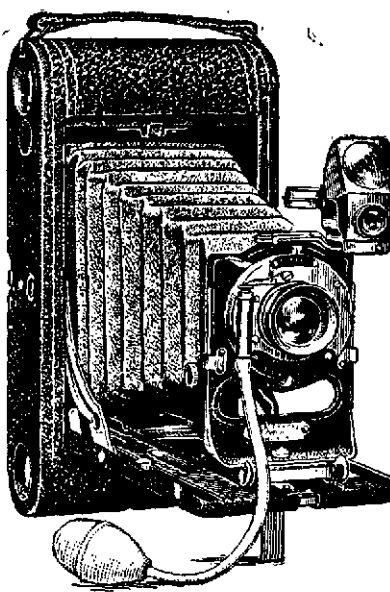

To Whom it may Concern:
It having come to our knowledge that Colonel J. P. Wood, now of Ada, but for several years a resident of our city, is a candidate for county judge of Pontotoc county, Okla., we the undersigned members of the Ardmore Bar, take pleasure in commending Colonel Wood to the voters of said county as a man in every sense worthy of the position to which he aspires. We regard him as a man of the strictest integrity and as an able and energetic lawyer, and we believe if he is elected he will perform the duties of the office to the satisfaction of the people, and in a manner creditable to himself.

Victimized By Rice Throwers.

A popular couple of Ada's young folks—a couple observed together more than once, in fact several times—spent Sunday in one of Ada's neighbor towns.

In the evening when they alighted from the train, on the return, apparently they were taken by surprise, encountering a reception neither of them had ever been up against. About a score of friends—whether with or without adequate provocation The News can't say—had collected a big cargo of old shoes and rice, and when the returning couple emerged from the train, with a mighty shout the friends overwhelmed them with shower after shower of the symbolical goods. The astonished pair just had to stand and take it, alternately smiling and frowning, with an occasional wince when a pair of boots would hustle them.

MAKE QUARTZ GLASS.

WASHINGTON SCIENTISTS DISCOVER NEW PROCESS.

Feat Achieved by Carnegie Laboratory Workers After Many Fruitless Experiments—Value of the New Product.

Washington—One of the most important commercial developments from the work of the Carnegie geological laboratory in Washington is the possibility of manufacturing quartz glass.

Dr. Arthur L. Day and E. S. Shepherd are the two men who have achieved the feat. They do not take any interest in the commercial possibilities of the matter. Dr. Day, for instance, says that they have shown that the thing can be done, and now if a commercial company wants to take it up it can do so, all of the facts having been made public in the scientific press and before learned societies, so that there is no possibility of anyone getting a patent on it.

The value of quartz glass over ordinary glass is that it can be heated to a temperature of about 1,000 degrees Centigrade without softening, and its expansion under any ordinary heat is so trifling as to be almost a negligible quantity. It also can be heated almost red hot and plunged into cold water without cracking and has the peculiar property of allowing the passage of the ultra violet light rays, making it remarkably valuable in photography.

The value of quartz glass had been recognized for a long time, and owing to the cheapness of German labor it had been manufactured in a way for laboratory use in the form of tubes by heating small clear quartz crystals and sticking them together. The tubes and other vessels thus built up were tough, patchwork-looking affairs, but served a number of useful purposes. However, there was no way of manufacturing the substance into glass sheets of any size because random masses of broken quartz could not be fused together without having the resultant glass full of air bubbles.

The workers of the Carnegie laboratory tried all sorts of methods. If the quartz was intensely heated, free silicon was deposited on the inside of the air bubbles, and the glass was spoiled in two ways, instead of one, which was a plenty. The final solution of the problem was found in heating the quartz to the melting point, about 4,000 degrees Fahrenheit, and then subjecting it to an air pressure of between 400 and 500 pounds. After this it was allowed to gradually cool. The air pressure squeezed out the air bubbles, and the result was a solid and clear mass of quartz glass. The plates that have so far been made are only about three by five by half an inch in size. The bubbles are few, not over one-half a millimeter in diameter, and are not frequent enough to interfere with the use of the glass for lenses, mirrors and other optical work. The experimenters think that a little more skill and experience would enable them to make the glass entirely free from flaws.

The value of the glass in photographic work is due, as has been said, to its property of allowing the passage of the ultra-violet rays, which are the rays that do the actual work in photography. In this connection the glass will be peculiarly valuable for the Cooper-Hewitt incandescent light tubes, such as are now in use in the post office building. These tubes are very valuable now for photographic work, but with the quartz glass tubes they will be immensely more so.

The glass, when it is once made, can be blown or pressed or cut like ordinary glass. It takes a much higher degree of heat to handle it, the oxyhydrogen blow pipe having to be used, while the material has to be worked much more quickly than ordinary glass.

As to the cost of the process, Dr. Day would attempt no estimate, merely saying that they had spent a great deal of money in doing as much as they had done, but that probably if the thing were done on a commercial scale and a larger unit of production adopted the cost would be considerably reduced.

The cylinder where the glass is made is a powerful iron "bomb," lined with graphite, and one of the problems in working on a larger scale would be to secure larger sheets of graphite for this lining. These sheets could be supplied only by one of the big companies now operating at Niagara.

DISASTER POSTAL CARDS.

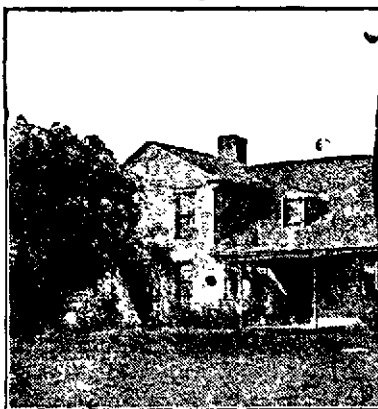

Made From Material That Has Figured in Some Accident.

New York—The disaster postal is one of the latest forms of the souvenir postal craze. It is fashioned from some material which has figured in an accident or calamity and is properly labeled and dated.

The collision off Noyes Beach, by which the steamer Larchmont was lost, furnished a number of these cards. They were made of a piece of sail, cut regulation postal card size, and on the back was printed: "Piece of sail from wreck of schooner Harry Knowlton at Noyes Beach, R. I. Wrecked by collision with steamer Larchmont, February 11, 1907."

The cloth was about an eighth of an inch thick and on its face bore the address and the usual stamp. San Francisco and Kingston have furnished a number of these postals. From railroad wrecks have been sent pieces of car cushions or Pullman draperies.

Cities May Cure Drunks.

Sanitariums Planned by Indiana Municipalities.

Wabash, Ind.—The reform wave which has been sweeping Indiana for many months has taken a peculiar turn in threatening to invade the county jails throughout the state. This particular reform is not aimed at the jail management, though some may be badly in need of attention. It is proposed to install it as a department of each jail in the larger cities. If it is established it means a new terror in the battle for the topor who is wont to imagine strange and dreadful things in his cell the while he forgets his dehauch.

The new terror will be the "jag cure." In other words, a movement to provide a system of treatment for drunkenness in the case of habitual drunkards at each jail or lockup in the cities that can afford such a plan has been started and is being favored in several Indiana cities.

One of the most interesting features of the movement lies in its origin. It was started indirectly by a woman. The name of "Tish" Higgins, of Wabash, is not confined solely to the city in which she lives. Year in and year out for a decade or so "Tish" Higgins has been a frequent visitor at the Wabash county jail. Usually she came unwillingly, protesting with maudlin vigor against being locked up. It is said that no other woman in Indiana, and it is not a record of which any woman would care to boast, has been locked up as many times as "Tish" Higgins.

She came so often to the Wabash jail and became such an expense to the city that Mayor Murphy finally began to wonder if it would not be money in the city treasury to devise some way to quench "Tish" Higgins' unfortunate thirst. Then he decided to give her a "jag cure," and broke the news to the woman after one of her numerous appearances before him. It was enough. She has not been back since.

Bathtub Arrives; Joy in Town. Fairfax, S. D.—The first bathtub to find its way to this city, Rosebud county seat, was formally installed the other day in the barber shop of Ralph Christlance, and there is rejoicing throughout the whole Rosebud reservation. Fairfax was one of the centers of the Rosebud rush, and has long been equipped with a jail, but until now those who chose to bathe had to do it on the installment plan.

RENEWING OLD ORCHARDS. How Pruning and Cultivation Will Give New Life to Trees.

Altogether the most profitable orchards are those set in recent times, or at least put out in the modern method. They are composed of strong, healthy, vigorous trees which practically cover the ground and among which there are no blanks. On many farms, however, there are smaller or larger tracts of old orchard, many of which are worthless and many more of which are not distinctly profitable. Some of these old orchards could be rejuvenated. They could be brought into reasonably good bearing and to a point where they would really pay a profit. Now the rejuvenation of an old orchard is a fairly simple matter, providing it is properly understood, says Country Gentleman. The important point is that it does not consist in the application of any single patent remedy. Spraying will not cure all the troubles; tillage alone will be worth very little; the only way to get the desired result is to apply proper methods all along the line. The soil should be loosened up and proper drainage provided. The trunks should be scraped clean and spread with copper sulfate or Bordeaux mixture. Old dead limbs should be cut out. A reasonable but not excessive pruning should be given. Thorough spraying should be undertaken. In case the trees are of mixed or unprofitable varieties, they should be regrafted to standard sorts. It is not likely that additional plant food will be required at first, except on soils very much depleted. An orchard taken vigorously in hand in the matter of tillage, pruning and spraying is apt to start into a strong growth at once; and if a good deal of raw fertilizer is applied, there may easily be more growth than is desirable. However, one must keep his eyes open, and in case the trees show the want of more food, it should be given. It is really a comparatively easy matter, if all these things are systematically attended to, to bring an old orchard round. It requires from two to five years to do it, depending on the condition of things when the matter is taken in hand.

RASPBERRIES FOR HOME USE.

Every Farmer Should Have His Berry Patch.

No farmer is doing his full duty to his family if he neglects to set at least four long rows of raspberries for home use. Four rows, because he needs four varieties, two of which should be black and two red, an early and a late of each.

Set them in the spring on freshly prepared land by laying it off with a shovel plow and setting 2 1/2 feet apart in the bottom of the furrow. Tramp the dirt firmly on the roots. Make the rows as long as the needs of the family may require.

Locate the patch out in the open where cultivation may be easily given, for which the ordinary corn plows are well adapted, suggests Farm and Home. They will not bear the first frost, and only a part of the crop the second year. The first year the crop is almost certain. The second year a six-inch mulch each season will make cultivation unnecessary and the only work will be an annual trimming. It may be done when the plant is dormant, but preferably in the winter or early spring.

Orchard and Garden.

The garden plot is not naturally drained, make plans for draining.

It is surprising how few farmers practice of spraying their fruit trees and vegetables.

Spraying use plenty of liquid and do so thoroughly. Use too much is better than too little.

Put an eye on the strawberry bed. Weeds blow the mulch off in spots, and it is at once.

Western New York buckwheat as a cover crop is the standard of fertility for apple orchards. It really gives wonderful results.

Do we not spend more time digging weeds before our crops are sown by them, and less in mourning because we had such a light yield at harvest time?

Time to Spray.

Fruit growers should spray their fruit trees in March, before buds swell, for fungus troubles such as peach leaf-curl, scab of pear and apple, fruit rot, etc. The Bordeaux mixture is the standard fungicide. (But, remember, time-sulphur is also a fungicide, so if you use it for San Jose on your trees you will not need the early spray of Bordeaux.)

The Strawberry Bed.

Somebody asks: "Shall I cultivate or hoe my strawberry bed this spring?" To this the Farm and Home says: As a rule, no. The bed should have been clean when it was "laid by" last fall. Any weeds which push through the mulch should be pulled out by hand.

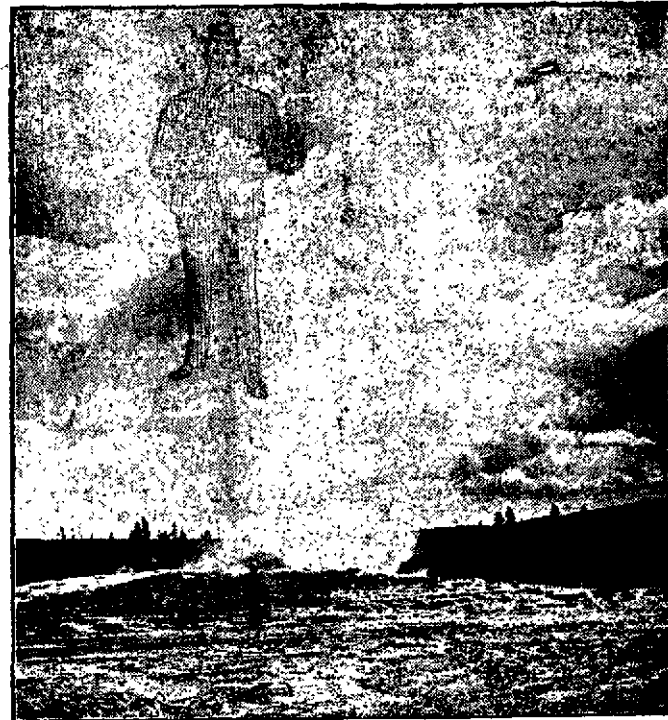

Planting Pears.

Pears can be planted closer than apples. A convenient distance is 15x20 feet. These can be thinned to 30x20 feet when time shall require. This will be all the thinning necessary, as pears tend to reach up rather than laterally.

A Way to Save Money.

A good fruit garden saves money and doctors' bills, drives away the blues and sweetens up the home.

SIXTY CIGARETTES DAILY.

AVERAGE NUMBER SMOKED BY AN IOWA PEDDLER.

After Consuming Nearly 1,000,000 Isaac Manhoff, of Dubuque, Declares He Has Had Enough and Quits Using Them.

Dubuque, Ia.—With a record of nearly 1,000,000 cigarettes, at an average of 60 a day, Isaac Manhoff, a peddler 40 years old, has decided to renounce the weed. The habit had such a hold on him that it was necessary to awake at all hours of the night and roll a "coffin nail" before he could be lulled to sleep again. When a lad in Russia he began the habit which he found so hard to shake off. Despite this fact he will devote his days to trying to convince men and boys that they should cease the practice. Manhoff was in the habit of smoking ten cigarettes before breakfast, and the rest of the day a cigarette was out of his mouth only a few minutes at a time.

For a man who has inhaled the fumes of so many cigarettes Manhoff is a strong man. He weighs about 175 pounds, and has a massive chest and a square build. He says: "You see, when I awoke in the morning the first thing I wanted was a cigarette. Generally I smoked about ten before breakfast. No, I never smoked while eating, but as soon as I finished I would put one in my mouth. Then through the day I would smoke them continuously, one now and another shortly after. Then night would come and I would smoke them late and many times even in bed."

"Have you ever smoked a cigar?" "I have smoked two cigars in my life. I couldn't smoke them because they made me sick. When I get cigars now I give them to my friends."

"How did you happen to quit smoking?"

"Well, you see, it was just like this: When I was afflicted with a cold I usually got hoarse and while I smoked the hoarseness grew more intense. One day not long ago the thought occurred to me that I should forsake the cigarettes. It was then and there that I made up my mind to never smoke another one."

"What was about your cigarettes that was different from others?"

"Well, when I smoked I always used the Russian rice paper and not the rag paper used generally in America. Why, if I had smoked the rag paper instead of the rice I would have been dead long ago."

Manhoff estimated the cost of his smoking at $3,191.

TO SAVE HISTORIC PLACE.

Relic of Days When Spain Ruled in the New World.

Santa Fe, N. M.—If the bill now pending in the legislature of New Mexico becomes a law the old governor's palace, one of the most historic structures in Santa Fe, erected hundreds of years ago, will be turned over to the city for a hall.

The bill was introduced by Speaker Roman Liberato Baca of the house, who is a descendant of one of the oldest native families in the southwest and whose ancestors helped to build the old palace.

At present a section of the old palace is rented by the territory to the United States government for a post office. The New Mexico Historical society also has a valuable collection of antiquities stored in the palace. Several rooms have been used by patriotic and political organizations for headquarters.

The old governor's palace has been the scene of action, martial and political, for centuries and could be preserved indefinitely. The history of the southwest is interwoven about the old building.

Indian governors and warriors, Spanish and American governors and soldiers have in turn used the old palace as headquarters. The histories of the murders, assassinations, fights and councils that have been held within its walls would fill a volume.

It is probable that when the bill to turn the historic old structure into a city hall comes up for consideration much of the history of the ancient palace will be brought out in speeches on the floors of both houses.

Leaves a Mansion for Slums.

Daughter of Wealthy British Contractor Leaves Among the Poor.

Elkhart, Ind.—Mrs. Howard James Clifford, wife of the Salvation army ensign who has been assigned to the Indianapolis field, is the daughter of a wealthy contractor of London England. This fact, which was kept secret from the husband until recently, became public a few days ago. The husband first learned of his wife's prominence and wealth while on a trip abroad. Mrs. Clifford's father was so generous in paying the expenses of the trip and providing them with entertainment that the truth dawned upon the ensign.

Ensign and Mrs. Clifford have been in Elkhart two years and have won innumerable friends by their persistent, modest and incessant labors in hovels and slums, and upon the streets. Mrs. Clifford is a tireless and able assistant in the work.

Ensign Clifford is a native of Charlbury, a village near Oxford, England. He has been in the United States about five years. One of the first sacrifices that he made upon entering the Salvation army in his native country was that of personal liberty. He was imprisoned for a time during the bitter persecution which the army suffered in the early years of its warfare in England.

His parents were Methodists of the old type. A boast of the ensign is that ever since his family from the days of John Wesley has been a Methodist minister. Two of his sisters and three brothers, one of them Major John Clifford, who did heroic rescue work following the Kingston, Jamaica, disaster recently, are engaged in the work.

"HUSTLE" DRESS FOR MEN.

British Reformer Invents Suit for Those in a Hurry.

London.—Edgar Jephson of Wenbley, Middlesex, is the latest British dress reformer. He has invented a hustling suit for men in a hurry. Its main usefulness lies in the fact that it can be put on and taken off in record time.

In appearance it differs from conventional attire only when seen from behind, but it is so distinctive from this point of view that when Mr. Jephson first wore it in public he was subjected to outspoken criticism. Nevertheless the brave reformer ventured to walk on the Strand in the suit. Its novel feature consists of combining the jacket and trousers, the latter being fastened by concealed buttons to the waist of the jacket behind.

Mr. Jephson says that as a walking or working suit it is incomparable and that it is also more stylish than the present mode. He proposes to extend the idea to evening dress, but doubts whether it ever will be popular because it is so useful.
